I. HEARINGS: FOR WHAT AND WHEN?

Prior to the opening of a hearing: Many towns have informal, pre-application conferences. Very valuable procedure, but, until recently, no case law or Statute allowing it. Now, Bergren v. Planning & Zoning Commission of the Town of Berlin, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 212 (9-24-01), says it is OK. Conn. Gen. Stats. § 7-159b (PA 03-184 §1) also authorizes. Should have regulations on this, however. If local regulations allow the commission to actually approve a “preliminary plan” during the “informal discussion”, can it be appealed? No, per Gerlt v. South Windsor Planning & Zoning Commission, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 431 (1-29-07); but, on appeal, held that Gerlt was denied due process because in later site plan application, Commission precluded testimony attacking the “preliminary plan,” so Gerlt was deprived of opportunity to attack the plan at any stage of approval. Gerlt v. South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission, 290 Conn. 300 (2009). See also Lorenz v. Old Saybrook Planning Commission, Docket No. MMX CV 05 4002715 S (Middlesex Superior Ct.) (approval of preliminary subdivision plan in connection with open space subdivision special permit is not illegal “two-step” subdivision approval.)

A. When to Hold a Public Hearing.

Can hold one anytime on any topic; don't let anyone tell you that you "can't" hold a hearing. Even under PA 96-157, “public interest” measure for Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agencies. Interesting case of Belanger v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Guilford, 64 Conn. App. 184 (2001): Commission voted to hold public hearing even though none was required but never advertised it. They held a meeting at which the public was allowed to speak, then approved the subdivision. Held that the Commission could change its mind after the vote and hold a meeting, not a public hearing, and fact that public was allowed to speak does not transform the meeting into an illegal, un-noticed public hearing.

However, holding public hearing won't extend your time limits on a site plan approval where no hearing is required. October Twenty-Four, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 35 Conn. App. 599 (1994). Clifford v.

Planning and Zoning & Commission, 280 Conn. 434 (2006) (Commission did not abuse discretion by not holding a public hearing for site plan for dynamite bunker when issues of public concern were thoroughly addressed).

1. Zoning Board of Appeals: Easy. Must hold a public hearing on everything. However, if new application is the same as one previously considered and denied, Board can refuse to even set a public hearing because it could not approve the application absent a change in circumstances. Grasso v. ZBA of Groton Long Point, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 270 (8-7-00). On appeal, this decision held to apply to variances only, not site plans: Grasso v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 69 Conn. App. 230 (2002).

2. Planning and Zoning Commission: By Statute, must have public hearing for zone and regulation changes, adoption or amendment to Plan of Development, resubdivision, special permit/exception, subdivision if your regulations require it (not by Statute). Site plan review you may. No public hearing required for determination of subdivision, Warner v. Salisbury Planning & Zoning Commission, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 23, 845 (10-1-07); and, on appeal, application of one-year statute of limitations of 8-8(r) for appeals based on defective notice upheld, even where no notice published, 120 Conn. App. 50 (2010). Note that per Public Act 03-177, amending Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-3 and 8-7d(d), no public hearing is required for a zone change initiated by the Commission itself. But I wouldn't recommend it in light of Gaida v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 108 Conn. App. 19 (2008) (public hearing required for commission-initiated zone change.)

3. Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency: Special rules: For a "significant activity" you must; for others, you may. One Superior Court held that any destruction of a wetland or watercourse, no matter how small, is a "significant activity". MJM Land v. Madison Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency, 39 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 596 (9-5-05). Note: if you hold a public hearing based on a finding that the activity may be "significant activity, then you must find that there is "no feasible or prudent alternative" to the proposed activity. But note Unistar Properties, LLC v. Putnam Inland Wetlands Commission, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 509 (January 12, 2009) (if no substantial evidence of adverse impact, then no requirement to show feasible and prudent alternatives; appealed on other grounds, see Supreme Court citation, infra.) Accord, Nason Group, LLC v. Haddam Inland Wetlands Commission, 51

Conn. L. Rptr. No 12, 440 (5-16-2011). PA 96-157 added new requirements for when you can hold a public hearing besides “significant activity”, including petition signed by 25 residents of town (current DEP rule). Ambiguity created: When does 30-day limit begin “date of submission”? Clarified by Public Act 98-209 and changed to 15 days from the “date of receipt” as already defined in the Statutes; now fourteen days, per Public Act 99-225, §16.

Be aware what role you are serving: Conservation Commission, Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency, combination? See attached article from The Habitat of January, 1999.

4. Settlement of Pending Litigation. Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-8(n) does not allow settlement of a land use appeal “unless and until a hearing has been held before the Superior Court”. Procedures and notice requirements for this “hearing” were never spelled out. See detailed discussion by Judge Corradino of the procedure to be followed for settlement “hearings” in Reed v. Branford ZBA, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 392 (March 8, 2004), which has been used in settling cases pending before that Court. Effective 1-1-07, Conn. Pract. Bk. §14-7A addresses this: requires that settlement be on the posted agenda—not added the night of the meeting—and must include statement of why the settlement is being entered into. Action to enjoin settlement is not an “appeal” and not governed by time limit for appeals. Daniel Conron, Jr. v. Gary Swingle, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 204 (June 4, 2007).

Wetlands: Mere withdrawal, without any settlement per se, leaving original approval intact, does not require hearing before the court per Conn. Gen. Stats. §22a-43(d). Mystic Active Adult v. Town of Groton, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 183 (May 28, 2007). Not sure I would take the chance.

B. The Public Notice.

Content: Location (with precision—address is best; avoid assessor’s map and block numbers); what it is about; who is applicant; time, place and location of the public hearing, including address, even if everyone knows where it is (don’t say “at the High School” assuming that alone is sufficient). State where documents are available for inspection and have them there, too. Specify what the application is. See Belanger v. Ashford Planning & Zoning Commission, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 654 (3-12-07) (two special permits for the same use had to be identified separately in the legal notice). Accord, Cassidy v. Zoning Commission, 116 Conn. App. 542 (2009)

(application for Special Exception to expand church was noticed, but simultaneous application for Special Exception to allow off-site parking was not).

Publish Where: Must use a newspaper having “substantial circulation” in the municipality. Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-3 “notice of the time and place of a public hearing shall be published... in a newspaper having substantial circulation”. See Sorrow v. Zacchera, 24 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 19 (April 19, 1999). If in doubt, advertise it again. If zone change: text/map must be in Town Clerk's Office at least 10 days prior for inspection. This is mandatory and must be complete application, including map or where zoning map change. Bridgeport v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Fairfield, 277 Conn. 268 (2006) (map amendment in Clerk’s office referenced assessor’s map not on file with Clerk; not valid). Strongly recommend that documents in all applications be available for inspection at the time of the first legal ad. The legal ad need not contain full text of a proposed regulation amendment. Collins v. Planning & Zoning Commission of City of Groton, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 346 (11-8-99).

Publish When: Twice, the first one not less than 10 nor more than 15 days before the hearing, the second not less than 2 nor more than 10 days before (the so-called “15-10-2 rule.”) Note: In counting the days of publication, the terminal days are excluded (that is, the day of publication itself and the day of the hearing). Lunt v. ZBA of Waterford, 150 Conn. 532, 536 (1963); Koskoff v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Haddam, 27 Conn. App. 443, 445-48 (1992), appeal granted on other grounds, 222 Conn. 912. However, the date of “publication” of newspaper is the date when it “hit the stands”, not necessarily the publication date printed in the paper itself. Dolengewicz v. Westbrook Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 559 (July 9, 2001) (local weekly paper was actually on the stands the night before the stated publication date, validating the legal notice).

Continued Public Hearing: Prevailing view is that no additional publication needed as long as date, time, and place of the continued hearing are announced before the adjournment of the initial hearing. Approved in Roncari Industries v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 281 Conn. 66 (2007); Buck v. Stonington Planning and Zoning Commission, Docket No. 103213, 1994 Ct. Sup. 7347 (Superior Court, J. D. of New London at Norwich, July 13, 1994, Teller, J.); Carlson v. Fire District Committee and Zoning Commission of Watertown, 31 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 355 (3-18-02); and Carberry v. Stamford ZBA, 01-CBAR-0911 (10-16-2001, J.D. Stamford-Norwalk at Stamford). If you have time, re-advertise. Note that public hearing can be “continued” even if not formally opened. Beeman v. Guilford Planning and Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 77 (7-3-00)

Change in Location: Typical procedure is to post a sign at the advertised location, “Public Hearing before the [name of commission] on the [name of application] being held at [location, with address and maybe even directions]”. If you publish a new legal notice with the new location, it must conform to the Statutory publication requirements. Compformio v. Greenwich Planning & Zoning Commission, 32 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 55 (June 10, 2002, Superior Court at Stamford.)

Special Notices: Water company for land in watersheds, adjoining towns, sometimes DEP, too numerous to list here and differ by, e.g., whether you are a “CAM” or “Gateway” town. Watch for who has to perform the notice, and be sure that copies of the notices, with certificates of receipt, are submitted for the record. Timing of notices to adjoining municipalities now codified, standardized in Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-7d for all types of land use applications except wetlands decision after public hearing (35 days, not 65). Note new requirement of P.A. 06-53: Both zoning and wetlands applications within public water supply water shed must be noticed to the water company and the Commissioner of Public Health. Be aware of new PA 05-124 requiring *applicant to notify holder of any “conservation” restriction (leave land in natural state) or “preservation restriction” (historical preservation) at least 60 days prior to filing of application. Failure to notify permits holder of easement to appeal approval within 15 days of actual knowledge of decision (not date of decision) and mandates that the approving agency revoke the approval. Note that this applies not only to land use agencies but also expressly to Building Officials and Directors of Health. Codified as Conn. Gen. Stats. §47-42d.

Personal Notices: Some local regulations require mailed notice to abutters, posting of signs, etc. Such requirements, unlike the Statutorily-mandated published notices, are waivable if the person attends. Koskoff v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. App. 443, 446, cert. den. 222 Conn. 912 (1992); Gourlay v. Georgetown Trust, Superior Court, J.D. of Stamford-Norwalk at Stamford, 17 Conn. L. Rptr. 149 (June 19, 1996); Sorrow v. Zacchera, supra; Carlson v. Fire District Committee and Zoning Commission of Watertown, supra; Fitzgerald v. Newtown Planning & Zoning Commission, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 604 (8-20-07). Posting of sign on private road open to the public is OK. Sorrow, supra. Party giving notice has duty to inquire or follow up if mailed notices are returned unopened. Gourlay, supra. Zoning Board of Appeals may “vacate” a granted variance if it discovers that applicant did not provide required personal notice, if done promptly upon discovery. Liucci v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 624 (Oct. 9, 2000).

New Public Act 06-80 creates new rules for “personal” notices: It implies that if a Town requires personal notice to abutters (not a requirement), that notice shall be by regular mail with a certificate of mailing, not certified mail, as many towns require. Does this mean you can’t use certified mail or only that you don’t have to? Also requires the creation of a “registry” for notice of any planning or zoning regulation or boundary amendment initiated by the commission—not private applicants—and requirement to provide “notice” (no idea what kind) to the public telling them about the registry. Names must be kept on the registry for three years after its creation (what if you request to be on it later?) The Act says that there is no civil liability for failure to notify—which there wouldn’t be anyway—implying that it would be grounds for appeal if a party failed to receive the requested notice. A mess.

Do you have to provide notice to abutter/owner within 100 feet if that is in another state? Maybe. Abel v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 297 Conn. 414 (2010) (owner within 100', but in New York, had standing to appeal. By analogy, that owner might be entitled to personal notice if local regulations so require.)

C. FOIC Notices.

See Conn. Gen. Stats. §1-21.

File your schedule of meetings at the beginning of each year no later than January 31st.

File the agenda no later than 24 hours in advance with Town Clerk; takes 2/3 votes to approve item not on the agenda. Meetings of less than a quorum is now cloudy: If a subcommittee, it is probably a meeting of the agency if it is discussing agency business because it might be deemed a “proceeding” by the Freedom of Information Commission. The Elections Review Committee of the Eighth Utilities District v. Freedom of Information Commission, 219 Conn. 685 (1991) (one Commission member and three volunteers on ad hoc committee was an “agency” governed by FOIA); but if less than a quorum of the whole agency show up, it is not a meeting. Emergency Medical Services Commission v. FOIC, 19 Conn. App. 352 (1989); and meetings of less than a quorum to, for example, review upcoming agenda is not a meeting either. Windham v. FOIC, 49 Conn. App. 529 (1989), aff’d. 249 Conn. 291 (1999).

1. Special Meetings: Special meeting notice 24 hours in advance, except in case of "emergency" (whatever that is), setting forth the nature of the emergency. Conn. Gen. Stats. §1-21. Only business on the agenda shall be discussed. Notice must be delivered to members (waived if they attend or file waiver), but be careful: Just announcing a special meeting is not sufficient, even if all or objecting member(s) is/are present to hear the announcement.

2. Agenda: Describe items with reasonable completeness. For a regular meeting agency can add new items to the agenda by 2/3 vote. Necessary to do that by a separate vote even though one case says merely approving the proposal itself by 2/3 vote is sufficient. ZBA of Plainfield v. Freedom of Information Commission, 66 Conn. App. 279 (2001).

3. Executive Sessions: 2/3 vote required: For "personnel"; strategy and negotiations with respect to pending claims and litigation to which agency is a party; selection, purchase, lease, etc., of real estate. Can have staff there to assist you only so long as needed.

Very narrowly construed by the case law: "Personnel" means matters which an employee would expect to have kept confidential. Same with "pending litigation", which can now include threatened litigation or litigation to be brought. Fuhrman v. FOIC, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. 7, 253 (1/27/97), but, again, be narrow: Lizotte v. Welker, 45 Conn. Sup. 217 (1996) (commission said "pending litigation" but did not name the very controversial matter involved; FOIC held violation). But see Fuhrman v. Freedom of Information Commission, 243 Conn. 427 (1997) (strategy can include, e.g., hiring lobbyist, consultant reports, etc.)

4. Is this seminar a meeting? No. New London Planning & Zoning Commission v FOIC, 2 Conn. Ops 613 (June 3, 1996, Maloney). Similarly, staff workshop not converted to a meeting by attendance of a few commission members, New London Planning & Zoning Commission v. FOIC, 2 Conn. Ops. 613 (6-3-1996).

D. Application Fees. Even if not filed, treat application as "live bomb" and act on it to avoid automatic approval. Beware: Superior Court found no basis for application fee in appeal of ZBA of ZEO decision, A&M Towing & Recovery, Inc. v. ZBA of Town of Newington, 16 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 412 (3-25-1996).

E. The Applicant/Application.

Who Can Apply? Often question of standing to apply for permit (not to be confused with the concept of standing to appeal the decision to Superior Court). Some local regulations require evidence of ownership or consent of the owner but that may not be appropriate in all cases, e.g., change of zoning map or text. In the absence of such regulations, ownership per se is not required, but, rather, a substantial interest in the permit sought. See Gladysz v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 256 Conn. 249 (2001). Holder of an easement for a sign can appeal regarding that sign: Philip Ireland v. ZBA of Rocky Hill, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 590 (10-26-1998). See Richards v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 170 Conn. 318, 323 (1976) (real party in interest may apply). Issue of who is the owner—a civil matter which agency cannot determine—clouds issue of who can apply. Ace Equipment Sales, Inc. v. Buccino, 82 Conn. App. 573 (2004) (reversed in part by Ace Equipment Sales v. Buccino, 273 Conn. 217 (2005), as to who the legal owner was, not to the civil rather than agency determination) was a property case, but underlying issue was wetlands: Buccino wanted to file wetlands application, but Ace said he couldn't because he was not an owner, so property case determined who could apply for wetlands permit.

Does owner have sufficient property rights to file the application? Again, commission can't adjudicate title, but must have evidence that applicant has or is reasonably likely to obtain necessary rights. Lorenz v. Old Saybrook Planning Commission, Docket No. MMX CV 05 4002715 S (Middlesex Superior Ct.) (applicant needed easement from State, but presented evidence that it could be obtained even though it ultimately wasn't); Gerlt v. Planning & Zoning Commission of South Windsor, 290 Conn. 313 (2009) (evidence before commission was that necessary easement would be obtained from the Town, even though it ultimately wasn't.)

Although corporations cannot represent themselves in court, they apparently can do so before an administrative agency. Briteside, Inc. v. Department of Health, 31 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 162 (February 11, 2002). The application form need not be any particular form or format unless the regulations specify otherwise. Biafore v. City Council of Meriden, 31 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 446 (4-1-02).

What kind of application is it? Be sure that you have filed for the right type of application and/or that the Commission is handling it under that procedure. Compare: Balf v. Planning & Zoning Commission of the Town of Manchester, 79 Conn. App. 626 (2003), (Applicant filed the application as a special permit and Commission treated it as such and denied it based on that level of discretion; Court decided it was really a site plan approval, and, based on that level of discretion, no authority to deny, so must approve); and A. Aiudi & Sons, LLC, v. Planning & Zoning Commission of the Town Plainville, 267 Conn. 192 (2004), (Applicant filed the application as a site plan approval and Commission treated it as such and denied it based on that level of discretion; Court decided it was really a special permit application, and, based on that level of discretion, Commission did have authority to deny). Hard to understand how the Court can rewrite history of how an application was filed and processed. But done again in Richardson v. Zoning Commission, 107 Conn. App. 36 (2008) (commission decided application was a “farm” and hence site plan review; court said it was “equine facility” and hence special permit.)

Characterizing what should be a special permit application as a site plan application carries the risk of automatic approval that would not otherwise have been available. See Arigoni Bros., LLC v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Haddam, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 660 (1-016-2000) where an application that should have been filed as a special permit was, instead, filed as a site plan and was not acted upon within the Statutory time frames for a site plan; held, automatic approval.

Compare these cases to Lallier v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 119 Conn. App. 71 (2010) where commission approved excavation as a site plan, and then decided later on that it should have been a special permit, and had Z.E.O. issue a Cease and Desist Order. Court said can’t do that. Difference from Aiudi and Balf seems to have been that there was no appeal of the site plan approval, so it was final.

F. Referrals. Numerous mandatory referrals to other agencies, too many to list here, and not all apply to all towns (e.g., Coastal Area Management, Harbor Management Commission, DEP for Coastal Area Management, Regional Planning Agency, etc.). Make a list for your town. Advisory opinions by such referral agencies are not separately appealable to Superior Court. Civie v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Orange, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 568 (11-26-2001), (Planning Commission recommendation not appealable by itself).

II. CONDUCT OF THE HEARING.

A. Sequence, etc..

Note legally required but desirable to have the proponent(s), then opponent(s), then those who do not wish to be classified as either. You must allow reasonable opportunity for everyone to be heard. Beware of: room too small (Noiseux v. CT Lean Energy Fund, FIC 2009-254), bad weather, no seats, fire code violations, late hours, etc. No case law directly on these issues, but don't take a chance. Helpful case: Organized North Easterners & Clay Hill & North End, Inc. v. Capital City Economic Development Authority, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 93 (9-3-2001), (State DEP advertised hearing for one night and "if necessary" for a second night; major snow storm forced cancellation of first meeting, but signs were posted on the doorway and hearing was held on second night; held that hearing notice was valid).

Keeping people moving: Don't discourage or cut off--just move them along. When in doubt, let them speak! Note, however, that just being cut off does not, by itself, create standing to appeal. Horton v. East Lyme Zoning Commission, 40 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 353 (1-30-06). Beware of time limits on speakers, Timber Trails Associates v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 99 Conn.. App. 768 (2007) (3 minute time limit per speaker upheld, but only because hearing went on for 3 nights and everyone was allowed to speak again after the first "round".)

You can help people to be more effective: Explain at the outset what is going on, i.e., this is not majority rules--applicant has legal right to get what they seek if regulations are satisfied. Comments should be informational, directed to the criteria of the Regulations. May be nice to have copies of relevant sections available for people to pass around.

Note: FOIC prohibits you from requiring members of the public to "sign in" at public meeting (Conn. Gen. Stats. §1-21), though it is common to request it for a speaker to assist the secretary in doing the minutes or transcript.

B. Cross Examination, etc.

Explain to the public/applicant why cross examination and questions must be permitted, despite formality. Look for opportunity for "waiver", i.e., ask person seeking it if they would mind allowing chairman to ask the questions or other procedure that is less "Perry Mason" in style. If they say OK, can't object later. Note that refusal of witness to be cross-examined is grounds for "motion to strike" per Fromer v. Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission, 17 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 259 (9-6-1996), which asks commission to ignore any testimony by the witness who refused to be cross examined.

You are not bound by the rules of evidence: Hearsay is OK, but you may give it less weight. Under case construing a particular statute (not zoning case) reliance on hearsay evidence to reach the decision is insufficient; it must be corroborated by other evidence. King v. Administrator, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 697 (February 16, 2009) (involved unemployment compensation hearing).

C. Site Walks.

If there is a site walk, NO COMMENTS OR QUESTIONS. If you see something or think of a question, jot it down for later when the hearing is reconvened. If you absolutely must speak and discuss, bring a tape machine and speak into it. Best to do this prior to the opening of the public hearing (so don't need to transcribe), but you don't always have any choice. If there is a site walk while the public hearing is open, there must be legal notice or announced continuance to a date certain like any other public hearing, even if the site walk is "posted" per the Freedom of Information Act. Grimes v. Conservation Commission, 43 Conn. App. 227 (1996; Lavery dissenting). However, the Commission need not provide personal notice to abutters or other parties of a site visit, Grimes v. Conservation Commission, 243 Conn. 266 (1997), and the absence from a site walk by a Commission member does not disqualify him/her where there was no testimony at the walk, and, at the reconvened hearing, the results of the site walk were discussed by the full Commission. Grimes v. Conservation Commission, 49 Conn. App. 95 (1998).

Stay together. The walk must be open to the public and you cannot avoid that by going out in less-than-quorum groups. Clow v. IWWC of Sharon, 2005 FOIC 2005-196 (full commission walked site but excluded the public, ruled a Freedom of Information violation); In re Zanowiak v. IWWC of Seymour, 2000 FIC 2000-676 (quorum of commission arrived, but split into small groups to exclude the public, ruled a Freedom of Information violation). Compare to Davis v. IWWC of Naugatuck, 1998 FIC 97-431 (only two members visited the site, period, and reported what they saw to the others; not a violation). Open to the public does not create a free-for-all. The site walk exists only where the Commission members are walking. Can't force the Commission to view any property except what is relevant to the pending application. Grimes v. Conservation Commission, supra.

You are allowed to use your personal knowledge of a neighborhood or parcel, but say so while the hearing is open.

D. Exhibits, Letters.

Best, in contested case, to note, at the opening of the public hearing, the documents which have been received so far: can just list them by date and description, or, if you think it necessary or desirable, read them aloud (not required, however). Allow anyone who wishes to examine documents to do so, but, obviously, do not alter them--avoid making notes etc., on originals. Mark exhibits if there are a lot of them.

Unanswered question: Time to examine and evaluate technically complex material. Some case law says you can examine it at the hearing, period. (See, Gelfman v. Planning & Zoning Comm., 1996 WL 24586 Conn. Super., Jan. 5, 1996), but as issues become more technical, that old rule may weaken. Safest to continue the public hearing if the applicant submits a lot of new material, especially technical material. See Timber Trails Associates v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 99 Conn. App. 768 (2007), (claim was made, but Court held that material was made available in sufficient time to allow review. Implication is that it would be otherwise if that was not the case.)

Note that certain letters must be read aloud or decision is void. The Planning Commission's report on a zone change, where separate planning and zoning commission. Gupta v. Zoning Board of City of Stamford, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 20, 690 (1-24-00). In other cases, failure to read the report aloud will not void the decision. Boris v. Garbo Lobster Co., Inc., 58 Conn. App 29 (2000), cert denied on 9/15/2000, (failure to read DEP Commissioner's CAM report, per C.G.S. 22a-104e).

E. Subpoenas.

Only one case, brand new and only Superior Court, says that an attorney can subpoena parties to appear, with documents ("duces tecum"), before a ZBA, per authority of Conn. Gen. Stats. §51-85; chairman can determine, item by item, if the documents sought are relevant to the issue before the Board. Also cites to the power of the ZBA chairman to "administer oaths and compel attendance of witnesses." Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-5(a). Keep on eye on this topic. Brandon v. Boyden, 40 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 653 (2-9-09). Brandon does follow UAPA precedent, e.g., Connecticut Handivan, Inc. v. Hunter's Ambulance Service, Inc., 20 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 549 (1-5-1998)(authority if intervenor to subpoena witnesses before State proceeding). In State context, held to be denial of due process not to delay hearing until subpoena issue can be resolved by the courts, and same rule could apply to municipal hearings. Venuti v. State of Connecticut Department of Liquor Control, 10 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 61 (10-5-93). Note that municipal agencies alone (without an attorney) can't issue or enforce subpoenas. City Council v. Hall, 180 Conn. 243 (1980).

F. Extensions.

Always get them in writing, even handwritten at the table. Specify how many days, not just "extension". Make sure the applicant understands: if you don't extend, the Commission will make its decision on what it has in front of it or call special meeting within the time limit. No need to reward jerks!

III. FAIR HEARING.

A. Testimony/Decorum

Public hearings must be conducted in accordance with Constitutional Due Process and with "fundamental fairness." The two tests are not necessarily coterminous. Megin v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 106 Conn. App. 602, 607-608, cert. den. 289 Conn. 901 (2008). See discussion in the variance context, Vichi v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 679 (7-4-2011).

Due Process includes the right to cross examine witnesses under oath; ask questions and get them answered. NO QUESTIONS TO THE AGENCY MEMBERS!! You are not testifying! But make sure that you don't "testify". If you start to testify to facts or special expertise, applicant may be able to question you about it. Your task is to listen, question, consider what you hear.

Everyone must identify themselves. No case law on non-residents but can't hurt to let them speak.

DEMAND that you be treated with respect!, especially by lawyers and other hired representatives. Feel free to table, postpone, or otherwise derail those who are rude. You are volunteers, but you exercise governmental authority and are to be addressed with courtesy and respect. Try to refer to each other and speakers with some formality: "Attorney Smith has asked . . ." Looks bad to the public and to a reviewing judge when you refer to applicant or his attorney as "John" or "Billy" or other informal or familiar references. Same with your staff: When you address him/her, can say "Craig, what do we have on this?", but when addressing audience, "Mr. Minor has assembled certain documents for the Commission . . ."

Try to keep it civil, but note no grounds for defamation for statements before agency. Dlugolecki v. Vieria, 98 Conn. App. 252 (2006).

Persons in attendance at an evening meeting or hearing cannot demand copies of documents to be made for them right then and there because the Freedom of Information Act grants that right “during regular office of business hours.” Planning and Zoning Commission v. Freedom of Information Commission, 48 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 21, 776 (2-15-10) (now on appeal).

Watch out for jokes: What may sound funny in person loses something when transcribed. Ethnic slur, though clearly intended as a joke (and started by the applicant’s own consultant), was still grounds to sustain appeal because it created negative atmosphere. Pirozzilo v. Berlin Inland Wetlands and Water Courses Commission, 32 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 103 (1-17-02).

B. Staff and Expert Input.

1. Staff Input:

a. Normal rule is that your staff and other objective advisors, such as State or other government agencies, can comment even after the public hearing closes (see discussion under IV.C., below); BUT, not carte blanche: Even staff cannot provide you with totally new information or raise totally new arguments not previously discussed. Staff can and should help you to evaluate what you have heard. Use common sense: the idea is to give the applicant and the public a fair chance to comment on each other and the factual and regulatory issues. If staff raises totally new material/arguments/issues, that goal is thwarted.

b. You are never bound by staff opinion; it is merely guidance and ultimate decision is yours. That is why the Commission can, if it so desires, allow a staff member with a declared conflict of interest to participate and comment, Beeman v. The Guilford Planning and Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 77 (7-3-00); same for some other town official, like the Mayor. Kusznir v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 60 Conn. App. 497 (2000).

c. ZBA appeals: Note special case for ZBA appeal of ZEO: contrary to the normal situation, the ZEO cannot speak after the close of the public hearing when his/her decision is subject of the appeal. Pizzola v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 167 Conn. 202 (1974). Even where non-substantive comments were allowed, court admonishes against it. Megin v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 106 Conn. App. 602, 611, fn 8 (2008). No deference to the ZEO.'s decision; the Board's review is "de novo", meaning from the beginning.

d. IWWA: Cases imply that DEP is comparable to your "staff" and can comment but same cautions as above about raising new issues or new evidence. Norooz v. Inland Wetlands Agency, 26 Conn. App. 564 (1992).

2. Experts:

a. If you don't believe an expert, SAY SO DURING THE PUBLIC HEARING and say WHY; for example, testimony does not square with your own observations, or you have expertise comparable to the "expert's" or his/her testimony sounds inconsistent, etc. Law is that as long as party has notice during the hearing that credibility is under question, chance to respond or reinforce, you can reject even uncontradicted testimony of an expert. Can reject any testimony of non-experts in most cases.

b. You do not have to believe an expert's opinion about the ultimate issue before you. For example, you don't have to accept expert's opinion that wetland impact is "not significant" or traffic congestion won't be at "unacceptable levels". Such determinations are yours to make. See Unistar Properties, LLC v. Conservation & Inland Wetlands Commission, 293 Conn. 93, 120-121 (2009).

c. Whenever possible, get opinions on both sides of technical issue, so you have latitude. This is one of staff's central functions so that your prerogatives are preserved.

3. Last Word: Who gets the "last word"? No case law on this, so again, use common sense, but remember: applicant has the burden of demonstrating compliance with the Regulations, so, like plaintiff in court, should have last word as long as that last word does not include new material.

Wherever possible, obtain full expert opinion while the hearing is open so that you have some latitude in making the decision (below). Must say, while on the hearing, any facts or expert opinions upon which you are relying.

C. Conflict of Interest, Prejudgment.

See other materials in this book.

D. CEPA/22a-19a Interventions.

Unclear exactly what they do. I think opportunity to speak, with or without public hearing. Certainly allow non-residents to speak. Can raise environmental issues but also procedural issues. Branhaven Plaza, LLC v. Branford Inland Wetlands Commission, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 303 (August 31, 1998); Animal Rights Front, Inc. v. Town Plan and Zoning Commission of Glastonbury, 30 Conn. L Rptr. No. 20, 751 (January 7, 2002). Can be filed in legislative proceeding (zone change). Connecticut Post Limited Partnership v. New Haven Development Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 53 (6-26-00). But filing intervention cannot expand the jurisdiction of the agency beyond its existing authority. Nizzardo v. State Traffic Commission, 259 Conn. 19 (2002) (State Traffic Commission has no environmental authority and cannot acquire any just because an intervention is filed.) Local commission may be authorized by its regulations to consider environmental issues in a site plan review, allowing intervenor to present evidence on such impacts. Joshua's Tract Conservation and Historic Trust, Inc. V. Zoning Commission of Town of Windham, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 239 (February 16, 2004). But see Diamond 67 v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 44 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 314 (12-17-07) (no intervention in mandamus action to compel approval where commission exceed site plan approval time limits).

Note the "no feasible or prudent alternative" requirement upon intervention unless you find that activity "will not unreasonable impair public trust", etc. Case law implies, however, that "two-step" inquiry is really a circle. You can't evaluate if impairment of the public trust is "unreasonable" unless/until you know if the alternative is "feasible and prudent". So to be safe, examine both and make findings on both.

Failure of intervenor to appeal zoning decision or unsuccessful appeal, now appears to bar separate injunction action under Conn. Gen. Stats. §22a-16. Fish Unlimited v. Northeast Utilities Service Company, 254 Conn. 1 (2000) effectively overturning Animal Rights Front, Inc. v. Plan and Zoning Commission of Glastonbury, 23 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 269 (January 18, 1999), which held to the contrary.

Can intervention alone (without other aggrievement) allow a party to appeal to Superior Court? YES: Branhaven Plaza, LLC v. Inland Wetlands Commission, 251 Conn. 269, 276, n.9 (1999). And no settlement without consent of the interveners. Brycorp, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Harwington, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 647 (July 23, 2001).

Note also that interventions can be filed to protect historic structures per C.G.S. §22a-19a. Such intervention is available even if the structure is under active consideration for listing on the National Register of Historic Places. Hill/City Point Neighborhood Action Group v. City of New Haven, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 206 (7-24-00). Although intervention is limited to raising environmental issues, its use is not limited to agencies reviewing environmental decisions—any land use decision. The Connecticut Post Ltd. Partnership v. New Haven City Plan Commission, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 249 (Dec. 18, 2000); also, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 621 (Oct. 9, 2000).

E. Keeping the Record.

Under Middlesex County case Coronella v. Planning and Zoning of Portland; 9 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 410 (Aug. 16, 1993, Higgins, J.), tape everything, even if it is not a formally advertised public hearing. My recommendation: use one tape for formal public hearings which you save for the long term, then start second tape for deliberations and non-public hearings which you tape over the next month or so. Lack of a transcript could result in a remand for new hearing or sustaining of the appeal. Pollard v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 446 (January 29, 2001), (application was approved, so applicant could just re-apply; might be different result where denial). With Public Act 05-287 §47, all zoning and planning agencies must record everything, public hearing or not, whenever an application is involved before the agency (site plan, subdivision, whatever).

REMEMBER THAT ON APPEAL, THE JUDGE WILL ONLY GET THE TRANSCRIPT OF WHAT IS SAID. Be aware of that and watch out for testimony like: "The area right here on the map is one that is of concern to me." Better to say, "The area just east of that steep escarpment is one that is of concern to me". Try to have everyone, even you, identify each time you speak, though it is a nuisance I realize. Of course, stop everything at tape change.

F. Other People Taping or Filming the Meeting.

This is allowed by FOIA, as long as not disruptive. Same for court reporters, which is actually a benefit to all parties--but don't let that intimidate you (a common purpose).

G. Who Gets to Speak?

Common issue is if people who do not live or own property (i.e., are not electors) of the town can speak. No case law on this, but it can't hurt to let them (have to for an Intervener; see above).

IV. MAKING THE DECISION.

A. Who Gets to Vote.

1. Absent for all or part of public hearing: If you were not a member of the agency when the public hearing opened, you can't vote, period, under Meeker v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Danbury, 7 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 13 (1992, Fuller). Oddly, Judge Fuller's treatise Land Use Law and Practice, 3d ed., §47:1, indicates the opposite. Meeker was not followed (or cited) in Seventeen Oaks, LLC v. Middletown ZBA, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 226 (April 4, 2011) (allowing newly appointed board member to review transcripts etc. and vote.) Same for wetlands in Executive Auto Group et al. v. Meriden IWWC, CV 094036906S (2/5/2010) (wetlands commissioner not on commission for public hearing, but allowed to become familiar with record and vote). The Meeker rule seems dead, and good riddance.

If you were absent, must listen to the tapes, review all of the documents submitted (including maps, etc.) and STATE, ON THE RECORD, THAT YOU HAVE DONE SO AND THAT YOU FEEL QUALIFIED TO VOTE. Burden then shifts to the challenger to prove you didn't. One Superior Court says that challenger must have raised the defect before the hearing closes or it is deemed waived. MJM Land v. Madison Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency, supra. If tape has a significant gap (25 minutes), that will preclude absent member from participating. Scrivano v. Cromwell ZBA, 26 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 617 (5-29-00). Malfunctioning tape prevents the absent member from participating. Ostrager v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 24, 875 (10-8-07).

Alternates can participate during the public hearing phase of proceeding, but once deliberations begin, alternate not seated cannot vote or participate in deliberations. Komondy v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 127 Conn. App. 669 (2011); Weiner v. New Milford Zoning Commission, 14 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 245 (7-10-1995). Once deliberations begin, voting alternate remains so, even if full member returns mid process.) Weiner v. New Milford Zoning Commission, supra; Moskaluk v. ZBA of Watertown, 10 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 154 (11-8-1993).

2. Quorum, etc.: If seven-member agency, and four are present and voting, how many needed to approve/deny—three out of four (less than majority of full agency) or four out of four? No appellate case law; Statutes are silent. Only one superior court case (from Colchester) which held that In absence of bylaw, majority of a quorum carries the motion. So, if you want majority of votes of full commission/agency, must adopt bylaws to that effect. Zone Changes: Burndy v. Milford Planning & Zoning Commission, 17 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 361 (Sept. 23, 1996) - Majority of full Commission for zone change. Also, Thomaston Savings Bank v. Zoning Commission of City of Waterbury, 26 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 433 (April 24, 2000) (two yes votes + one abstention = failure to approve zone change by majority of five-member commission). ZBA is always four out of five, including a vote to amend a previously imposed condition, Fleet National Bank v. ZBA of Winchester, 54 Conn. App. 135 (1999). Defeat of motion to deny does not constitute approval. Wittemen v. Redding Zoning Commission, 21 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 517 (May 25, 1998).

3. Tie Vote: Tie is defeat of the motion. Beware of "non-action", automatic approval, though one case said that was an action. 109 North, LLC v. New Milford Planning Commission, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 71 (May 7, 2007;) overturned on appeal because the motion wasn't really an approval anyway. Defeat of motion to approve is a denial, per case law, but don't take the chance. Non-approval of motion to approve means there are no reasons stated or even discernable--dangerous. Inland Wetland Watercourses Commission: Time limit to act not extended by tie vote on approval motion. Lowe v. Meriden Inland Wetlands, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 592 (Oct. 26, 1998). Also note risk of conflicted member voting in what ends up as tie vote, Limestone Business Park, LLC v. Plainville Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission, 44 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 399 (1-7-08) (requiring remand for new decision).

4. Abstentions: Biasucci v. ZBA of City of Ansonia, 13 Conn. L. Rptr No. 3, 100 (Jan. 6, 1995) - abstaining = no vote (not affirmative vote); directly contra case of U-Haul of Conn. v. Bridgeport Planning and Zoning Commission, 12 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 367 (Oct. 10, 1996), saying abstention = an affirmative vote. Best advice: don't abstain!

5. Extraordinary Majority: Note that all ZBA decisions must be four out of five even for a special permit/exception. Same is true for a decision to modify a previous variance or condition attached thereto. Fleet National Bank, Trustee, v. ZBA of Town of Winchester, 54 Conn. App. 135 (1999). Not the case for motor vehicle location decisions. See below.

6. Ex Officio Members: Per CGS 8-19, the First Selectman/Mayor, Town Engineer, or Director of Public can be "ex officio" members of the Planning Commission. Sometimes, by local charter or special act, the same is the case for the zoning commission. What power does such a status entail? Per Borer v. Board of Education, City of West Haven, 34 Conn. L. Trib. No. 20, 751 (7-28-03), that includes the ability to make a motion. The decision relies on Ghent v. Zoning Commission of the City of Waterbury, 220 Conn. 584 (1991).

B. Decision on the Record.

Must make your decision based on WHAT YOU HEARD AT THE PUBLIC HEARING. Can use personal knowledge if it is that of a layman--readily observable--but even then, SAY IT ON RECORD SO PARTIES CAN DISPUTE IT if they want to. Fact provided by the public (as opposed to "we don't want it" opinions) can provide basis for decision. Children's School, Inc. v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Stamford, 66 Conn. App. 615 (2001). See also Municipal Funding, LLC v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 270 Conn. 447 (2004), (upholding denial of special exception for long-term residential drug treatment facility based on health/safety impacts raised by public). Weight can also be given to advisory agency opinions. Heithaus v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Greenwich, 258 Conn. 205 (2001) (P.Z.C. accepted, but was not bound by, recommendation of Historic District Commission.) Commission members should not ever come up with their own research or facts after the hearing--too late. If they don't have enough information, extend the hearing or deny without prejudice (covered below).

Note that, for the most part, you are stuck with the record on appeal. A court can't "remand" the matter back to the agency to obtain more evidence just because one party feels that they wanted to say more than they did. Graziano v. Southbury Planning and Zoning, 20 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 198 (10-27-1997).

C. Staff Input.

No new information, objective, no prejudice. Try to avoid where you can--keep it on the record. "Staff" can include disinterested public agencies, such as The Board of Education. Daniels Hill Development LLC v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Newtown, 26 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 338 (4-3-00). Interesting because Board of Education could also be a aggrieved party with standing to appeal (e.g. approval of alcohol within 500 feet of a school), New Haven Board of Education v. ZBA, 26 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 16, 565 (5-15-00).

D. Use of Experts.

You cannot ignore uncontradicted expert testimony if you do not question it, so, if you have doubts, question the expert on the record. If major issue, get your own experts--ERT, Town personnel, State, UConn, etc. TAKE YOUR TIME. If you have special expertise upon which you will rely, say so on the record (while hearing is open). You can use your own expertise. Wasfi v. Dept. of Public Health, 60 Conn. App. 775 (2000) (UAPA case, but analogous reasoning).

E. Criteria.

1. The Record. What you saw and heard during the public hearing or allowable staff input thereafter, plus personal knowledge of the area and common sense. Appellant could not use discovery on appeal to get into the record statements allegedly made by application two years after the approval was decided. Brandon v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 707 (7-4-2011).

Ex parte Communications: Obviously, DON'T.

2. The Regulations. YOUR regulations (one case where the Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency that tried to use provisions in the State model regulation that they hadn't adopted--n.g.). Must make your decision based on the criteria in the Regulations; or, if variance, what is stated in the case law. Be sure to use regulatory standards to focus your discussion. Some agencies actually run down the list, which is simple and ideal. Ask, aloud, and DISCUSS, "What evidence did we hear about this criteria? What do we conclude based on that evidence? Were the criteria met?" Judges look for this as sign of your diligence and use of proper criteria. DON'T SHORT CUT! Even if decision is obvious (to you), HAVE SOME DISCUSSION to demonstrate that you thought about it. One case was lost because, after hours of testimony, Commission simply voted without discussion. Judge felt instant vote was proof that they had not based decision on evidence and regulations (bad decision, but judges are human). Plan of Development alone (no reference in zoning regulations) not valid criteria. M&E Land Group v. Planning & Zoning Commission of the Town of Newton, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 143 (July 27, 1998). But see Irwin v. Planning & Zoning Commission of the Town of Litchfield, 244 Conn. 619 (1998), (can use Plan of Development where expressly referenced in criteria for special exception).

3. Substantial Evidence: Not just speculation or possibility that criteria might not be met; must be some evidence of probability that the alleged adverse impact or violation of standards will exist. Lord Family of Windsor, LLC v. Inland Wetlands & Watercourses Commission of Windsor, 103 Conn. App. 354 (2007). Especially the case for wetlands commissions where technical issues predominate. Substantial evidence requires expert testimony for technically complex topics, and mere concerns do not equal substantial evidence. Fanotto v. Inland Wetlands Commission, 108 Conn. 235 (2008), affirmed 293 Conn. 745. Cannot use a condition to obtain post-approval evidence which was necessary to make a finding of regulatory compliance in the first instance. Finley v. Inlands Wetlands Commission of Orange, 289 Conn. 12 (2009). Commission can deny application as incomplete where applicant does not submit substantial evidence sufficient to find compliance. Unistar Properties, LLC. V. Conservation & Inland Wetlands Commission, 293 Conn. 93 (2009). Burden is on the applicant to provide evidence to support approval. Id., pp. 124-127.

4. Level of Discretion. Differs depending on the type of application that it is: legislative is highest level of discretion (adoption or amendment of regulations for zoning/wetlands map); administrative is next (acting on the applications under those regulations); ministerial is lowest (issuing permits, including site plan review). For good discussion, see Konigsberg v. Board of Alderman, 283 Conn. 553 (2007).

Historic District Commission. Has discretion. See Morena v. Historic District Commission, 50 Conn. Sup. 398 (2007). WPCA: Have broader discretion than zoning commissions, Forest Walk, LLC v. Water Pollution Control Authority, 44 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 328 (12-7-07).

5. “Consideration” of the Report of the Inland Wetlands Agency: See Weinstein discussion below. Referral back to the wetlands commission will not necessarily be required for changes to the plans during the zoning/planning review process. Vine v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 122 Conn. App. 112 (2010) (original plan showed a house and kennel, but revised in zoning to delete the house with no other changes; held no need for second referral to wetlands); Newman v. Avon Planning & Zoning Commission, Docket No. HHD CV-06-4024608-S (unpublished; on remand from Supreme Court, held that widening of drainage channel to become a “watercourse” did not require referral back to wetlands.)

6. Miscellaneous: The existence of zoning violations on a property is not grounds to deny a subdivision for that property, Garrison v. Planning Board of Stamford, 66 Conn. App. 317( 2001), on the grounds that the zoning violation was not inherent in the plans submitted. Regardless, if the Commission is going to attempt a denial on this basis, it is best to include a provision in the subdivision regulations expressly authorizing such denial for zoning violations on the parcel (a point not discussed by the Appellate Court in Garrison). Also, the local agency must assume that state laws and regulations are valid and cannot rule that they are unconstitutional. Only a court can do that. See, Town of Canterbury v. Rocque, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 20, 695 (1-24-00) (Town cannot attack Constitutionality of State regulation); (Town of Canterbury v. Rocque, 78 Conn. App. 169 (2003) (reversed and remanded, town decision was entitled to judicial review).

7. Procedural: If the use requires a Special Permit/Special Exception, so does accessory use. Donovan v. Putnam, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. 17, 602 (4-7-97)

F. The Motion.

Always have a motion prepared in advance for controversial or complex application. Can and should contain findings of fact and how that relates to regulatory criteria. Get some preliminary discussion, then appoint subcommittee to work with staff to draft motion for consideration at next meeting. You may have heard not to state reasons (many town attorneys feels this way); I disagree, AS LONG AS TOWN ATTORNEY CAN BE THERE TO WORK WITH YOU ON THE MOTION. Problem is that if you state reasons, court will only examine those not search the record for others. See discussion in Orzel v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 33 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 699 (3-3-03). There is no such thing as a motion that is too long. If plan revisions, cite to revision dates you are approving (East Haddam example: Commission deliberately approved plans previous to final ones because they were better). Staff can't fix an inadequate motion by adding more reasons for denial later on. Cacace v. Branford Inland Wetlands Commission, 49 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 39 (3-22-10).

If verbal representations made on the record, include them as modifications/conditions. Note that citing a reason for denial that was never raised during the hearing may be due process violation. Forian v. Cheshire Planning and Zoning Commission, 35 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 74 (8-11-03).

Motion forms: Some towns use them, but there is no legal requirement. It is an easy way to keep track of who voted how.

For ZBA: Be sure to describe the scope of the variance granted. Refer to a plan where there is one (and there should always be one) and limit variance to what is shown on it. Where ZBA granted yard variance for one structure, was held to reduce that yard for any/all other structures within the reduced yard. Dodson's Boatyard, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 77 Conn. App. 334, cert. den. 265 Conn. 909. Accord, 112 Washington Street, LLC v. ZBA of Norwalk, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 197 (June 4, 2007), (verbal representation by application before board was not binding unless made an express condition of variance). Even worse, see Anatra v. ZBA of Madison, 127 Conn. App. 125 (2011): applicant signed variance application form, which said under the signature, all capital letters, "THE PLANS SUBMITTED WITH THE BUILDING APPLICATION MUST BE THE SAME AS T HOSE SUBMITTED WITH YOUR VARIANCE APPLICATION." Got variance, built house with "suspended" french doors at second level; then added deck not shown on variance plans but conforming to rear setback. Z.E.O. said ZBA must approve the change, appealed, affirmed by ZBA, but overturned by the Appellate Court, based on Dodson's Boatyard—conformance to submitted plan was not an express condition of the variance approval. Cert. Granted, 301 Conn. 902 (2011).

For Planning and Zoning Commission: Same issues as with Dodson's case (say what you mean). Once you approve the application, can't go back and decide you didn't mean it. Lallier v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 119 Conn. App. 71 (2010).

For Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agencies: Two parts to your task: your own permit (issue or deny), and, also, the "report" to Planning and Zoning Commission or Zoning Board of Appeals. The report typically consists of simply of the motion to approve/deny but can contain more as well. However, a recent Superior Court case held that the "report" must be a separate and distinct statement identified as such. Weinstein v. Madison Inland Wetlands Agency, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 21, 756 (March 2, 2009); reversed on appeal, 124 Conn. App. 50 (2010) (failure to "report" does not invalidate agency decision). Remember to make finding re feasible and prudent alternatives if there was a public hearing and if intervention per 22a-19a. Two part process: Is the activity one which will cause "unreasonable impairment of public trust", and, if so, is there feasible and prudent alternative? The terms "feasible" and "prudent" are now defined in PA 96-157. Statement of alternatives requirement is directory not mandatory. Mulvey v. The Environmental Commission of the Town of New Canaan, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 665 (November 9, 1998). If you find that there is a feasible and prudent alternative, must deny the application or condition approval on one of the identified alternatives. DeSilver v. North Branford Conservation Commission and Inland Wetlands Agency, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 16, 599 (6-13-2011) (commission found that there were three feasible and prudent alternatives, but instead of denying, approved the application based on condition that applicant revise to reflect one of the three. Held that commission had to deny, make suggestions about the three alternatives as guidance to applicant, and that applicant had to return with new application reflecting the selected alternative.)

G. Conditions and Modifications.

Tricky area. Except for Inland Wetlands, Statutes don't even authorize "conditions", only "modifications", so use that term whenever you can. Zone changes cannot be conditional at all, though possible exception now for affordable housing. Kaufmann v. Zoning Commission, 232 Conn. 122 (1995). Variances can be conditional, especially to achieve "harmony with the purpose and spirit of the regulations".

Don't rely too much on the condition: sometimes, judge will strike down the condition but leave the approval intact, as the trial court did in Reid v. Lebanon ZBA, 235 Conn. 850 (1995), (“Life use only” illegal condition and severed from variance). Same for special permits, Gozzo v. Simsbury Zoning Commission, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 110 (10-13-08). Question is whether the conditions are “integral” to the approval, and, hence not separable from it. Kobyluck v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Montville, 84 Conn. App. 160 (2004), (upholding conditions imposed on gravel pit and finding that they were integral to the approval, contrary to trial court conclusion). Variances cannot be personal, per CGS §8-6(b), Public Act 93-385. Note that in most cases, once applicant accepts conditions without appealing, they are stuck with them and cannot challenge them in a later enforcement action or permit renewal. Upjohn Co. v. ZBA, 224 Conn. 96 (1992); Spectrum of Connecticut, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 13 Conn. App. 159 (1988); Ike, Inc. v. Town of East Windsor, 20 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 666 (February 2, 1998); L.A. Development v. Sherwood, Or., 741 So. 2d 720 (Lg. Ct. App. 1999), cert. Den. (U.S. Jan. 18, 2000). If condition/modification is the heart of the application, you may want to deny the application instead (if you have the evidence).

For subdivisions at least (probably other decisions, as well), the commission has the discretion to modify the application to bring it into conformance with the regulations or to simply deny due to a noncompliance, even if it is a minor one. Krawski v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Town of South Windsor, 21 Conn. App. 667 (1990), cert. den. 215 Conn. 814.

Also, fair hearing issues can arise: When conditions/modifications become too numerous or too far-reaching, applicant or opponents may claim that application as approved is so different, they should have had the chance to comment on "new" (i.e. extensively revised) proposal. No case law on this, and we don't want to be the test case. But see 109 North, LLC v. Planning Commission, 111 Conn. App. 219 (2008), where motion to “modify and approve” was such a wholesale redesign of the subdivision as to constitute a new application; so tie vote on that motion was not “action” on the pending application.

Be sure conditions are authorized: to allow year-round occupancy of a college. For example, a variance could not be conditioned on the continued occupancy of the applicant. Reid v. Lebanon ZBA, 235 Conn. 850 (1996). But limitation on “no rental” was valid because it applied to any owner. Gangemi v. Fairfield ZBA, 54 Conn. App. 559 (1999) [reversed because zoning regulations were amended to allow all other cottages in the zone to be occupied year round, 255 Conn. 143 (2001)]. Board cannot condition on a subject governed by a State agency, e.g., hours of operation. Kenyon Oil Company, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Hamden, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. 11, 392 (2-24-97), (hours of operation of a convenience store cannot be condition of site plan). See also, Sacred Heart University, Inc. v. ZBA of the City of Bridgeport, 21 Conn. L. Rptr No. 10, 346 (April 20, 1998).

Too fix or not to fix: That is, add conditions which will address deficiencies in the application or just deny it based on those deficiencies. Case law here is clear: the choice is yours. But beware: a condition can't substitute for evidence that was required in order to make a finding of compliance, Finley, above.

H. Denial "Without Prejudice"

I had a judge tell me that there is no such thing and that is true; but, I think it helps to communicate basis for decision as being non-substantive (procedural, incomplete, etc.). No harm in saying that if it is what you mean. See Unistar Properties, LLC v. Putnam Inland Wetlands Commission, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 509 (January 12, 2009) (Commission requested information on wildlife and applicant refused, saying there won't be any. Court said that's not the applicant's call to make; information was sought to inform that determination; remanded the application back for consideration of that information.)

I. Permit to the Land, Not the Applicant.

Especially confusing for ZBA: permit is to the APPLICATION NOT THE APPLICANT. "Hardship" is to the land, not the owner or applicant. Means you cannot rely on identity of the applicant ("Joe Smith always does good work, so no problem."). Permit/approval can be sold to new owner with the land so don't rely on verbal assurances, generalities, "not to worry", etc. Make sure everything is on the plans or in the motion and CLEAR. Verbal statements made by the applicant not displayed on the plans: if they are important, put in the regulations or the approval motion; still risky.

J. Statement of Reasons.

The general rule is that where the Statutes require that the commission state the reasons for its decision (and there almost always do), the requirement is directory rather than mandatory. The result is that the failure to state reasons for the decision on the record will not invalidate the commission's decision and the court will search the record to find reasons to support that decision. However, if the local regulations mandate a statement of reasons, case law indicates that the Court will invalidate the decision for failure to state the reasons of decision. See Gillespie v. Montville Inland Wetlands Commission, 37 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 222 (7-26-2004); Ahlberg v. Stratford Inland Wetland Commission, 50 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 218 (10-4-10); and Northern Heights v. Clinton Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission, 52 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 21, 786 (7-18-11) for three wetlands cases; and Gross v. Planning & Zoning Board of Appeals, 171 Conn. 326 (1976) for a ZBA variance case. The lesson: Do not include a requirement to state reasons in your regulations.

K. Reconsideration.

If notice is already published, you can't reconsider. Decisions become final when published. Sharpe v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 43 Conn. App. 512, 526 (1996). Even prior to publication, you need a "good reason". See Kinney v. Inland Wetlands & Watercourses Commission of Enfield, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 486 (June 25, 2001), (denied application was reconsidered and approved only because applicant's lawyer claimed that the Commission had simply made the wrong decision, not to correct errors due to oversight or "some other extraordinary reason", quoting Sharpe.) See, also, Dugas v. Zoning & Planning Commission of Suffield, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 16, 585 (July 16, 2001). See variance cases below. In State administrative case, held that refusal of agency to reconsider was not appealable to Superior Court; same reasoning might apply to land use appeals. Peter F. Sielman v. Connecticut Siting Council, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 400 (March 15, 2004). Zoning Board of Appeals may "vacate" a granted variance if it discovers that applicant did not provide required personal notice, if done promptly upon discovery. Liucci v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 624 (Oct. 9, 2000).

"Reconsideration" can arise in other contexts: Approval of Coastal Site Plan constitutes a finding of zoning compliance (since it is a zoning process) and estops a subsequent challenge to the legality of the proposed use. Bishop v. Guilford ZBA, 92 Conn. App. 600 (2006). See also, Horton v. East Lyme Zoning Commission, below. Decision by ZBA to approve liquor store as site plan approval could not be challenged when ZEO. issued Certificate of Zoning Compliance, where neighbor claimed that original decision should have been a special permit, not a site plan. The ZEO. could only consider if the liquor store had been built in accordance with its approved site plan; neither he nor the Board could reconsider the original decision to treat the application as a site plan. Mohler v. Suffield ZBA, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 21, 793 (4-2-07), replacing earlier opinion at 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 410 (1-22-07).

“Precedent” as binding commission action: Commission may have construed “street” to mean “through street” when measuring maximum cul de sac length and may have applied it that way before but that is not what the regulations say. Pappas v. Enfield Planning & Zoning Commission, 40 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 668 (3-27-07). May be different for a general practice: Commission was in the habit of approving partial bond releases at various stages of subdivision road completion but was not estopped from reversing that practice. Grandview Farms, LLC v. Town of Portland, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No 8, 285 (1-1-07). See, also, Goulet v. Chesire Zoning Board of Appeals, 117 Conn. App. 333 (2009), cert. Den. 294 Conn. 909: decision differing from past decision was OK because past decision was in error.

L. Post-Decision Notice.

Specific; also, conditions by reference or generically; some towns print the whole thing because no case law directly on point. It is expensive, but the safest way for controversial applications. Failure to publish the post-decision legal notice on time voids the decision, and, if Zoning Commission accidentally sets an effective date which is prior to or same day as publication, it cannot establish a new effective date and publish a new legal notice. Wilson v. Planning and Zoning Commission of East Granby, 260 Conn. 399 (2002); Ozanne v. Darien Zoning Board of Appeals, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 315 (Jan. 8, 2001). However, failure to publish the post-decision legal notice at all may still void the decision, RBF Assoc. v. Torrington Planning & Zoning Commission, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 591 (April 7, 1997), and will not be cured by the Validating Act. Taft v. Wheelabrator Putnam, Inc., 55 Conn. App. 359 (1999). (Judgment of the appellate court reversed and remanded with direction to dismiss plaintiff’s original appeal for lack of aggrievement. Taft v. Wheelabrator Putnam, Inc., 255 Conn. 916 (2000). Note different result for legislative decisions, where validating act can cure a notice defect, Hayes Family Limited Partnership v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 98 Conn. App. 213 (2006), cert. den. 281 Conn. 916 (2007) (overturning Taft for legislative decisions, i.e., zoning amendments). If file second notice of decision, that starts the appeal period. Graziano v. Southbury Planning and Zoning Commission, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. 13, 465 (3-10-97).

Decision to extend time within which to complete subdivision is appealable decision so publish notice of it. Flateau v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Sherman, 23 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 579 (March 22, 1999). Signing (endorsement) of final subdivision “mylars” or recording of those mylars is not appealable decision so don't publish notice of it. Carlson v. East Haddam Planning and Zoning Commission, Docket # CV 05 4003677 S (J. D. Of Middlesex, McWeeny, J.) One court has ruled that a decision to settle a pending appeal must be published, even though the standing of a party to challenge such a decision is in doubt. See Oppenheimer v. Redding Planning Commission, 26 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 335 (4-3-00). Also note that the notice of action to the applicant must be by certified mail, not regular mail, per C.G.S. 8-26, but failure merely entitles the applicant to apply again. Whoopee. MacBrien v. Oxford Planning & Zoning Commission, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 404 (11-22-99). Oppenheimer v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Redding, 23 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 492 (March 1, 1999). Same case leaves open the question of whether decision to settle pending litigation must be published.

M. Filings.

Zone change amendment MUST BE FILED WITH TOWN CLERK with effective date, EVEN IF IT IS EXACTLY THE SAME AS PRE-HEARING FILING. Special Permits/Exceptions have to be filed to be effective (no Statutory time limit). Subdivisions have time limits for endorsement and filing but very unclear under current law. Site Plans/Zoning Permits/Certificate of Zoning Compliance: no filing requirement but beware. Lack of filing creates trouble for future enforcement. No requirement to file Inland Wetlands and Watercourses permits. Bottom line: Land use agencies must develop their own filing systems for plans, with proper indexing and ability to reproduce copies. I recommend endorsement of site plans and special permit/exception plans to avoid confusion.

Variances must be recorded with the Clerk per Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-3d but held that failure to file does not invalidate the variance. Heritage House Associates v. Charles Street Associates, LP, 1 Conn. Ops. 985, September 11, 1995 (Booth, J.).

N. Time Limits for Decision.

Now standardized, for the most part, in Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-7d for zoning by PA 03-177: 65 days to act if no public hearing; 65 days to hold public hearing; 35 days to close public hearing; then 65 days to act after public hearing except for wetlands, which remains at 35 days to act, as before. Applicant can consent to extension of any/all of the time period, provided total extensions do not exceed 65 days (different from before). So applicant can allocate those 65 days as desired. Failing to open public hearing within time limits will not invalidate decision per Superior Court decision (not 100% reliable), Wise v. Zoning Commission of Simsbury, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 511 (April 5, 2004).

Decision to “reject” subdivision application as “premature” was a decision which met commission’s obligation to act. Miles v. Foley, 253 Conn. 381 (2000). Same where vote to approve conditionally did not carry, Wiznia v. Town Plan and Zoning Commission, 34 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 495 (June 9, 2003). Note that automatic approval applies to site plans and subdivisions by a planning or zoning commission, but not to Special Permits/Exceptions, variances, ZEO appeals, zone changes, etc., or actions by other agencies. R & R Pool and Patio, Inc. V. ZBA of Ridgefield, 102 Conn. 351 (2007), (even site plan application has no automatic approval when ZBA is reviewing agency or planning and/or zoning commission). Just because applicant has to file a site plan as part of a Special Permit/Exception application does not transform such an application into a site plan application. Center Shops of East Granby, Inc. v Planning and Zoning Commissions, 253 Conn. 183 (2000), effectively overruling SSM Associates Ltd. Partnership v. Plan and Zoning Commission, 211 Conn. 331 (1989); Lauver v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 60 Conn. App. 504 (2001). See also, North American Family Institute v. Litchfield Planning & Zoning Commission, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 643 (March 12, 2001), (failure to timely close public hearing on special permit and site plan does not produce automatic approval). Superior Court held that even where site plan should have been automatically approved by failure to act, Court still has discretion to reject application for Writ of Mandamus, Jalowiec Realty Associates v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 38 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 644 (2-28-05), (site plan application did not include required sewer permit and plan did not comply with regulations, and so mandamus denied on the “public interest” principle); but reversed by Jalowiec Realty Associates v. Planning and Zoning Commission of City of Ansonia, 278 Conn. 408 (2006), (plaintiff was entitled to writ of mandamus).

However, be safe: Never require or accept a “site plan application” form in conjunction with a Special Permit/Exception. Note that if use actually requires a Special Permit/Exception, but Commission erroneously accepts the application as a site plan review, automatic approval will apply under Arrigoni Bros. v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 660 (Oct. 16, 2000). Compare to A. Aiudi & Sons, LLC v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Town of Plainville, 72 Conn. App. 502 (2002), where applicant filed site plan application but Court determined that it was, in fact, a special permit application and reviewed it under that standard. Aiudi seems to contradict Arrigoni decision. Appellate Court did the same thing in reverse in Balf Co. v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 79 Conn. App. 626 (2003). Aiudi was affirmed at 267 Conn. 192 (2004). See also, Mohler v. Suffield ZBA above.

O. Effective Dates:

A zoning map or text amendment should state the date upon which it becomes effective, which date cannot be earlier than the date of the post-decision legal notice. This means that a permit application which relies on the adoption of a zone change or amendment cannot be granted the same right that the map change or amendment adopted because that change or amendment will not yet be effective. Eighth Utilities District v. Manchester Planning and Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 240 (7-31-00).

V. JURISDICTIONAL ISSUES.

Can be complex. Generally, administrative agency has authority to determine its own jurisdiction in the first instance. Episcopal Church of St. Paul and St. James v. Department of Public Health, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 235 (12-11-06).

A. Jurisdiction to Hear/Decide the Application.

General: Applicant must have standing to apply. See above. Agency must have jurisdiction to hear the application and/or to impose its regulations, and jurisdiction must be established before the merits of the issue will be reached. Ross v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 118 Conn. 55 (2009). Jurisdiction cannot be waived, such as by filing an application that you didn't need to file. Id., p. 60.

Zoning: Statutory limitations, such as on manufactured houses or family day care homes, per Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-2. See, Ridgefield Planning and Zoning Commission v. Ridgefield Zoning Board of Appeals, 31 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 703 (5-20-2002). Protection extended to Community Residences, 8-3e, per PA 05-28, §56. Also, municipality may regulate outdoor wood-burning furnaces, PA -5-160. Hackett v. J.L.G. Properties, LLC, 285 Conn. 498 (2008) (construction over Candlewood Lake exempt from zoning under Federal Power Act).

Regulation of adult entertainment uses can be a zoning function (even though many towns do it by ordinance). VIP of Berlin, LLC v. Town of Berlin, 44 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 70 (10-22-07).

Private entity is not exempt from zoning merely because it is performing a State function or program. Community Renewal Team of Greater Hartford, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of City of Shelton, 19 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 223 (June 9, 1997). Land owned by one town in another is not exempt from “host” town zoning regulations. City of Hartford v. Town Council of West Hartford, 35 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 258 (9-15-03).

Zoning Commission cannot require a special permit for a subdivision just because of the number of lots that the subdivision is to contain. Lord Family of Windsor, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 288 Conn. 730 (2008), contra result if it were a special permit, Goldberg v. Zoning Commission, 173 Conn. 23 (1977) (one retail store on one lot is not the same use as a shopping center with multiple retailers).

ZBA: The full agency must make the decision; the chairman cannot “screen” the applications. Grasso v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 69 Conn. App. 230 (2002). ZBA can hear appeal of Special Exception decision of Planning & Zoning Commission if local regulations so provide. Jewett City Savings Bank v. Franklin, SC17499, _280 Conn. 74 (2006). Note contrary result for site plan decisions per P.A. 02-74, §2, amending C.G.S. §8-8(b). For ZEO appeals, see E below.

ZBA has jurisdiction to construe the terms of a stipulated judgment to which it was a party. Hasychak v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 296 Conn. 434 (2010).

B. Interagency Overlapping Jurisdiction.

Local Overlaps in General: You each exercise authority under your own Statutory grant of power as implemented by your own Regulations. Thus, approval by wetlands agency of drainage system on basis that it has no adverse impact on wetlands/watercourses does not mean Planning and Zoning Commission must approve it under provisions concerning flooding, nuisance, proper engineering practices, public works considerations.

Zoning/Wetlands/Subdivision: Note that some jurisdictions overlap in part (storm drainage), others totally (erosion and sedimentation control is under both Planning and Zoning Commission and Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency). Means you need to work together to avoid "catch 22" for the applicant, which undermines your credibility. Another example is open space: Board of Selectmen/State/land trust, whoever, must be willing to accept it. Open space for environmental (Inland Wetlands and Watercourses) reasons may not be the same as recreational or visual (Planning and Zoning Commission).

Statutes require SIMULTANEOUS applications to IWWA and zoning boards, but I strongly recommend that zoning and subdivision regulations require PRIOR APPROVAL by Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency before even APPLYING for other land use approvals. It prevents "the clock" from starting on what will probably be half-baked plan and avoids confusion, delay, and risk of closed public hearing with Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency comments coming in later. No case law on this.

Zoning/Subdivision Regulations: Planning Commission cannot adopt lot requirements that exceed zoning regulations—planning commission is usurping the authority of the zoning commission. Lewis v. Planning and Zoning Commission of the Town of Ridgefield, 76 Conn. App. 280 (2003). Bad decision because it is logical to impose a higher standard for new lots than for existing ones.

Planning and Zoning Commission/Zoning Board of Appeals: Zoning Board of Appeals' approval of gas station location does not insure issuance of Special Permit/Exception by Planning and Zoning Commission. Note that before Board can approve location for gas station etc., any required Special Permit/Exception must be granted by the zoning commission. Sun Oil Co. v. ZBA of Hamden, 154 Conn. 32 (1966); and Clark Heating

Oils, Inc. v. ZBA, 159 Conn. 234 (1970). Land left over as “other land of” the developer in a subdivision and not approved as a building lot could not obtain variance to validate the lot; lot was not a legal nonconforming lot for lack of subdivision approval. Cimino v. ZBA, 117 Conn. 569 (2009).

State/Federal Overlaps: There are preemption issues: Local noise ordinances ruled pre-empted by State regulations (per 22a-67, et. seq.), although noise is one factor which commission can consider in reviewing applications. Berlin Batting Cages, Inc. v. Berlin Planning and Zoning Commission, 76 Conn. App. 199 (2003). Very interesting case was Phoenix Horizon Corp. v. North Canaan Inland Wetlands and Conservation Commission, CV 95 0068461 (Litchfield Sup. Ct., Pickett, J.), where applicant filed application for wetlands permit. Proposed activity included a detention pond. Applicant then applied for DEP permit for pond which, per C.G.S. 22a-403(b), is exclusive jurisdiction of the State DEP, preemption local review. Meanwhile, local Commission denied the application. On appeal held that applicant shouldn't have applied for pond if claim was state preemption and Commission had no choice but to act on it. See Watertown Fire District v. Woodbury IWWC, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 188 (10-2-08) (removal of sediment from a reservoir was “operation of a dam in connection with public water supplies” and hence exempt.) Compare to Ross v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 118 Conn. 55 (2010), where jurisdiction held not waived just by filing application. See interesting case of Sams v. Connecticut DEP, 47 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 531 (June 29, 2009), where owner built seawall without local or State permits, then argued before the Town that it was under State jurisdiction, and argued before the State that it was Town jurisdiction. Court held that despite precise location of “high tide line” was unclear, part of the wall was under DEP jurisdiction which justified order to remove it all. Also, note relationship between local review of subdivisions and impacts of drainage on downstream. State highways Public Act 99-131. See also Rapoport v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 301 Conn. 22 (2011) (city lacked zoning jurisdiction over improvements to dock that were subject only to State permitting and regulation.)

Can be Federal preemption. Hackett v. JLG Properties, LLC, 41 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 24, 883 (10-23-06), (Federal jurisdiction over hydroelectric projects preempts local zoning authority, such that structures under Federal jurisdiction not subject to local zoning control), but note that FAA guidelines did not preempt local wetlands regulations. Ventres v. Goodspeed Airport, LLC et al, 37 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 197 (7-19-04), affirmed 275 Conn. 105 (2005). Compare to Tweed-New Haven Airport Authority v. Town of East Haven, No. 08–0597 (D. Conn.), 28 Mun. Lit. Rep. 207 (11-15-08) (local wetlands, zoning, and flood control board enjoined from interfering with Federally mandated and funded runway project). Re Federal preemption over Conn. Gen. Stats. § 22a-16 environmental claims based on increased radioactive discharges, Burton v. Dominion Nuclear Connecticut, Inc., 300 Conn. 542 (2011).

Also, issues related to Telecommunications Act of 1996 and the Fair Housing Act amendments of 1989 outside the scope of this outline.

C. Agency/Administrative Overlap.

Same issues. Sanitarian's approval of septic system as meeting Public Health Code doesn't mean Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency must approve it re impact on wetlands/watercourses or that Planning and Zoning Commission must approve it under broader "public health" provisions or that Zoning Board of Appeals must grant variance for lot size, setback, etc. Sanitarian, Fire Marshall, and other local officials, or State, can only approve what is within their authority; you approve/deny what is in yours. DOT curb cut permit does not mean you have to approve it, etc. See C. Bruno Primus v. Coventry Planning & Zoning Commission, 35 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 479 (10-27-03) (Commission denied subdivision based on denial of septic system by sanitarian; subdivider could not appeal Commission decision because he did not appeal sanitarian's decision to the Health Dept.; and regulations required sanitarian's approval for all lots prior to subdivision approval).

D. Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Jurisdiction.

Special case. Case law holds your Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Agency can require owner/user to appear and present evidence re extent of jurisdiction. Wilkinson v. Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission of Town of Killingworth, 24 Conn. App. 163 (1991). Owner can't just perform the activity based on a self-proclaimed exemption. Canterbury v. Deojay, 114 Conn. App. 695, 708 (2009); Rizzuto, Jr. v. Environmental Protection Board of Stamford, 51 Conn. Rptr. No. 6, 202 (4-4-2011.) In both cases, the validity of the claimed “farm” exemption was questioned. See also, Taylor v. Conservation Commission, 302 Conn. 60 (2011) (no filling of wetlands, even for a road that is “directly related to the farming operation”).

Wetlands agency cannot condition permit on bond to remedy possible damage to domestic wells of abutters—not within wetlands jurisdiction. Lorenz v. Old Saybrook Inland Wetlands & Watercourses Commission, 37 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 94 (July 5, 2004). Probable that in comparable situations, other agencies can as well (planning commission in subdivision situation, §8-26; see below). Can review activities in upland areas to determine and regulate adverse impacts on wetlands and watercourses. Aaron v. Conservation Commission, 183 Conn. 532 (1981); Lizotte v. Conservation Commission of Somers, 216 Conn. 320 (1990); Queach Corporation v. Inland Wetlands Commission, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 44 (11-13-00), affirmed in Queach Corp. v. Inland Wetlands Commission of Branford, 258 Conn. 178 (2001). One case says agency can do this even without regulations to that effect. Can regulate uses of uplands if evidence of impact on wetlands/watercourses, Bain v. Inland Wetlands Commission of Oxford, 78 Conn. App. 808 (2003), and regulations authorize it, Prestige Builders, LLC v. Inland Wetlands Commission, 79 Conn. App. 710 (2003).

Indian Tribal Lands. Superior Court holds that tribal lands are subject to Inland Wetlands and Watercourses regulations, Kent Inland Wetlands and Watercourses Commission v. Rost, 50 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 694 (1-17-2011, Pickard, J.)

Enforcement: Best if wetlands enforcement officer issues "notice of violation" rather than "cease and desist" in cases of question; if he is sure, go ahead with Cease & Desist. Note, however, that cease and desist order by zoning enforcement officer is appealable only to Zoning Board of Appeals, order by wetlands agent only to the agency. See changes in PA 96-157.

Note: Inland Wetlands Agency has no jurisdiction over open space preservation but can recommend to Planning and Zoning (and should); applicant may find it prudent to designate, in order to avoid full review of activity which is not needed, proposed, or intended. Commission can consider probable/foreseeable activities even if not shown on the plans. Peterson v. Oxford, 189 Conn. 740 (1983); and Glasson v. Portland, 6 Conn. App. 229 (1985).

Note limitation on use of wildlife impacts as basis for denial, Avalonbay Communities, Inc. v. Inland Wetland Commission of Wilton, 266Conn. 150 ( 2003), the holding of which was limited by P.A. 04-209: Agency can consider habitat impacts in the wetland or watercourse, just not in the “upland review area;” but can consider impacts to wildlife if that, in turn, “will likely impact or affect the physical characteristics of such wetlands and watercourses.” See article by Gregory A. Sharp, Esq., in The Habitat, Vol. XVI, No. 2 (Spring, 2004). Supreme Court relied on P. A. 04-209 to uphold requirement for wildlife inventory, and denial of application as “incomplete” when developer refused to provide it. Unistar Properties, LLC v. Conservation & Inland Wetlands Commission, 293 Conn. 93 (2009). Supreme Court has now affirmed that impacts on wildlife can “likely impact or affect the physical characteristics” of wetlands, where there is expert testimony (“substantial evidence”) to support that conclusion. River Sound Development, LLC v. Inland Wetlands & Watercourses Commission of Old Saybrook, 122 Conn. App. 644, 653 et. Seq. (2010) (held that evidence from the plaintiff’s expert supported the conclusion that wood frog tadpoles remove detritus from vernal pools and protect water quality.)

E. ZBA Appeals of Z.E.O. Decisions/Orders.

Conn. Gen. Stat. §8-7 requires appeals from ZEO decision within thirty (30) days of decision or order appealed from, or Board may set longer or shorter period of time by resolution. Time limit is jurisdictional, and if not met, the Board must deny the appeal for lack of jurisdiction. Phillips v. Darien ZBA, 20 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 257 (November 3, 1997); Bauer v. Waste Management of Connecticut, Inc., 234 Conn. 221, 231 (1995) and many other cases. Application in phases opens new appeals period for each phase, Jack Halpert v. ZBA City of Bridgeport, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 13 (July 6, 1998), but, this has been held to apply only to the recipient of the order or decision; neighbor who wishes to bring injunction cannot be barred by the tolling of an appeal period on a decision he/she did not even know about. Loulis v. Parrott, 241 Conn. 180 (1997) (failure to appeal in 30 days does not bar equitable actions), reversing the dicta to the contrary in Koepke v. ZBA, 30 Conn. App. 395, 402 (1993); Loulis rule followed in Derham v. Dennis Brown, et al., 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 155 (September 10, 2001), but Munroe v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Branford, 261 Conn. 263 (2002) held that 30 days must run from actual notice, overruling anything in Loulis to the contrary, and effectively over-ruling

Phillips, supra, where abutter had no notice of decision. PA 03-144 amended Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-3(f) to allow publication by the applicant to trigger the 30-day appeal period. See Wiltzius v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 106 Conn. App. 1 (2008) where neighbor observed some activity on adjoining property and not enquire within 30 days; but when he did enquire, held 30 days began then.

Although I recommend that Board take a vote on whether or not it has jurisdiction where it is unclear, case law says that even failure to act can be tested by mandamus action. Battistoni v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Morris, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 621 (July 23, 2001).

Appeal of Certificate of Zoning Compliance issued at time of C.O. cannot challenge errors/defects present at time of Certificate issued at time of the Building Permit. Longmoor v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 33 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 34 (10-21-02).

F. Route of Appeal

Any challenge to administrative jurisdiction must be raised by a timely administrative appeal. Cannata v. Department of Environmental Protection, 215 Conn. 616, 622 n. 7 (1990); Wallingford Board of Education v. State Department of Education, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 290 (February 3, 1997); Battistoni v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Morris, supra.

G. Subdivision Jurisdiction.

Issue of what is a subdivision versus a resubdivision can also be complicated and determination is to be made by the planning commission per Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-26. See, e.g., Nafis v. Planning and Zoning Commission of the Town of Southington, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 620 (January 10, 2000), (property divided into three by splitting off the land at each end and leaving the middle parcel; later division of the parcel in the middle was, thus, resubdivision). For relationship between foreclosure and “first cut,” see Lost Trial, LLC v. Weston Planning and Zoning Commission, 48 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 90 (9-28-09) (apparently a proposed four lot subdivision—case is not clear on this—but not approved. Bank foreclosed on mortgage on one parcel, sought approval of that lot. Owner of balance argued they were taking his “first cut.” Commission held that they could not deny bank its first cut, and Court affirmed.)

We now know that “minor” lot line changes without creation of a new lot is not a “first cut” or subdivision event. Goodridge v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 58 Conn. App. 760 (2000); followed in Derham v. Dennis Brown, et al., 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 155 (September 10, 2001), but with the question remaining of whether a change to a subdivision or lot boundary is “minor” (as permitted in Goodridge) versus “major”. Compare to Balf v. Manchester ZBA, 40 Conn. L. Rptr. 876 (March 13, 2006), (larger parcel conveyed to abutter for compensation and then actually used to expand abutter’s building was not “minor” and constituted the “first cut” toward subdivision); and Lost Trail, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 2009 WL 2357704 (Conn. Super.), 48 Conn. L. Rptr. 90; and Stones Trail, LLC v. Zoning Board of Appeals, FST CV 064010003S (May 6, 2008). See also Warner v. Salisbury Planning & Zoning Commission, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 23, 845 (10-1-07) (two “accidentally” merged parcels eligible for “first cut.”) Compare to CN Builders v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 45 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 24, 875 (9-22-08), where consolidation of leftover parcels from a subdivision held to be resubdivision.

Town line: The town line is a de facto lot line because neither town can regulate outside its own boundaries. So a “lot line revision” that moves a lot line from a town line to another location has, in fact, created a new lot. Green Falls Associates, LLC v. Zoning Board of Appeals of North Stonington, 50 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 25 (8-30-2010).

Off-site improvements: Hot topic and was unclear in the wake of Property Group, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Tolland, 226 Conn. 684 (1992). Now settled with Buttermilk Farms, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Plymouth, 292 Conn. 317 (6-30-09): NO off-site improvements, with “off-site” defined as outside the area of the lots (so not even sidewalks across the existing road frontage). Clearly cannot deny subdivision due to off-site traffic where development density is per zoning, Pansy Road, LLC v. Town Plan & Zoning Commission, 283 Conn. 369 (2007); Sowin Associates v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 23 Conn. App. 370 (1990), cert. den. 216 Conn. 832 (1991); nor due to poor condition of adjoining roads, RYA Corp. v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 87 Conn. App. 658 (2005). Possible exceptions: Poor sight lines for new driveway on existing road. McElroy v. Town Plan and Zoning Commission of Fairfield, 48 Conn. L. Rptr. No.

18, 669 (1-25-10); or where off-site impacts on felt in another town which lacks zoning authority over the subject site, Wellswood Columbia, LLC v. Hebron, 295 Conn. 802 (2010).

Bonding: Subdivision power does not include the authority to bond private driveways, even common driveways, Dunham v. New Milford, 2002 WL 31124552. Seems like a bad decision for common driveways which are just like private roads.

Conformance to Zoning: Subdivision Regulations cannot usurp the zoning authority to set minimum lot sizes. Cristofarao v. Burlington, 217 Conn. 103, 107 (2003); Lewis v. Ridgefield P & Z, supra. Unless local regulations so allow, land outside of the town cannot count toward minimum lot size, Lee v. New Canaan Planning & Zoning, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 4, 144 (1-6-1997).

Review of total parcel when only part is being subdivided: Evans v. Plan & Zoning Commission, 73 Conn. App. 647 (2002), says can't require but may have been due to language of regulation that referred to land "owned" by applicant, and this applicant didn't own the rest of the land (option).

Odd case: Subdivision regulation cannot require that new streets be connected to existing streets; would have to be done by ordinance. Andrews v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 38 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 386 (2-14-05), affirmed in 97 Conn. App. 316 (2006). Superior Court decision seems to have been more influenced by "three minute public hearing" than by the text of the Statutes, which allows subdivision regulations to require "that proposed streets are in harmony with existing and proposed thoroughfares shown on the plan of conservation and development". Appellate Court focused on prohibition of use of out of town roads.

H. Zoning Jurisdiction:

General: Definitional issues can affect zoning commission jurisdiction or authority. See, e.g. Wood v. Somers ZBA, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18 (January 10, 2000), ("harvesting" of spring water and commercial sale thereof is not "agriculture". Nice try though) (affirmed in part, over ruled in part: 258 Conn. 691 (2001), "harvesting" water still not agriculture but trial court improperly addressed nonconforming use claim, reversed and remanded, in part, to the board).

Historic Preservation: Zoning regulation (general, not just for Village District) upheld which regulated demolition of historic structures. Greenwood v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 8 (2-28-2011.)

Coastal Area Management: It was proper for trial court to remand appeal of denial of coastal area management site plan back to local commission in order to determine if proposed house addition was more than 200 feet from mean high water line, since if it was, commission lacked jurisdiction to even require the site plan. Ross v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 118 Conn. App. 55 (2009).

FHA/ADA and RLUIPA: Many issues now raised by the Fair Housing Act and the Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act (“RLUIPA”), both beyond the scope of this outline. See Cambodian Buddhist Society of Connecticut v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 285 Conn. 381 (2008) upholding denial of special permit based on conventional zoning considerations which were not applied differently to the religious use. Bottom line: bring in your counsel when issues involving the rights of “disabled persons” or religious expression are involved. For non-RLUIPA case deferring to religious land uses, see Bethlehem Christian Fellowship, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Town of Morris, 73 Conn. App. 442 (2002). Compare to Farmington Avenue Baptist Church v. Farmington Planning & Zoning Commission, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 441, (March 22, 2004), (applying a higher level of judicial scrutiny to vague standards that could be used to interfere with religious expression, compared to “clearly secular factors”, such as building coverage, etc.)

First Amendment/Free Speech: Regulation on commercial flags did not violate Constitutional Free Speech protections. Medina v. Town of Waterbury, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. 5, 149 (1999), but, see, Guilford Planning & Zoning Commission v. Guilford ZBA, 37 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 35 (June 21, 2004), (cannot prohibit display of flag of Ireland outside Irish bar, even though one purpose may be to attract customers. Note difference where the municipality owns the property: Uptown Pawn & Jewelry, Inc. v. City of Hollywood (11th Cir., July 16, 2003), (City allowed businesses to sponsor advertisement on public benches but would not allow pawn shops to purchase ads. Held not a violation of First Amendment free speech). Accord, Globe Newspaper Co. v. Beacon Hill Architectural Commission, No. 94-1538 (1st Cir., 1996) (banning all street furniture, including newspaper racks, in historic district).

Basic rule is “content neutral time, place, and manner” regulations are OK. See Kroll v. Steere, 60 Conn. App. 376 (2000) (20-foot sign opposing deer hunt exceeded the size limitation and was not protected by First Amendment free speech protections.) Regulation that attempted to categorize commercial signs vs. non-commercial signs, and on-site signs vs. off-site signs was struck down in Desert Outdoor Advertising, Inc. v. City of Moreno Valley, No. 95-55529 (9th Cir. 1996).

Lanham Act: Restriction of sign color as part of unified shopping center sign plan, did not violate the Lanham Act (Federal law which protects trademarks). Lisa’s Party City, Inc. v. Town of Henrietta (New York), No. 98-7695 (2d Cir., July 20, 1999), though it may exceed Statutory authority. Accord, Blockbuster Videos, Inc. V. City of Tempe, No. 97-15535 (9th Circ. 1998).

MBL/MABL: So-called “minimum buildable land” or “minimum buildable square” regulations are allowable under the zoning power. Timber Trails Associates v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 99 Conn. App. 768 (2007).

Miscellaneous: Voiding of a zone change due to notice defect makes it void from inception so other actions taken in reliance upon that zone change will fail along with it. Wilson v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 35 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 165 (9-1-03).

Regulations may require that accessory uses to principal uses requiring a special permit shall also require a special permit. Donovan v. Town of Putnam, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 17, 602 (4-7-1997).

Regulations may not impose a shorter time period for completion of site plan improvements than those mandated by Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-3(I), Kenyon Oil Company, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Hamden, 18 Conn. L. Rptr. 11, 392 (2-24-97).

Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-26a: Was held to exempt approved subdivision lot from all after-adopted zoning regulations, not just those regarding lot dimensions. Poirier v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Wilton, 75 Conn. App. 28 (2003). Fixed by P. A. 04-210: Once a foundation is placed on a lot, it is subject to current zoning; only vacant lots (meaning ones that never had a building on them) are “grandfathered” under the zoning regulations in force at the time of subdivision approval. Clarified in PA 05-288. This protection includes even

State- or Federally-mandated regulatory schemes such as Coastal Area Management and Flood Zone regulations. Ross v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 118 Conn. App. 90 (2009.)

I. Interpretation of Regulations

Agency can construe or interpret ambiguity in its regulations, and courts will give due consideration to that interpretation if reasonable. LePage Homes, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 74 Conn. App. 340 (2002); Alecta Real Estate Greenwich, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Board of Appeals, 33 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 8, 277 (12-9-02); Pelliccione v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 64 Conn. App. 320 (2001), cert. den. 258 Conn. 915. But agency cannot, under guise of “interpretation,” make words say what they do not say. 200 Associates, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 83 Conn. App. 167, 174 (2004). However, court will give deference to “time tested” interpretation of ambiguous term. Newman v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Avon, 293 Conn. 209 (2009) (area of the “parcel” can include not only the land within the subject subdivision, but also of “parent” or “root” parcel, despite lack of ownership by applicant). Compare to Kraiza v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 121 Conn. App. 478 (2010, Borden, dissenting, on appeal), where one past interpretation did not rise to the level of a “time tested” interpretation, with no cite to Newman. The Newman rule has been held to not apply to mere understandings of what, in the opinion of surveyors and developers, the Commission meant. Egan v. Stamford Planning Board, 49 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, p. 237 (4-26-10).

Words and phrases: Trumbull Falls, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Trumbull, 97 Conn. App. 17 (2006), (one mile separating distance is measured “as the crow flies” even though the Commission had measured by street distance in the past). Also, Pappas v. Enfield Planning & Zoning Commission, 40 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 668 (3-27-08) (measurement of cul de sac length from “nearest intersection” could mean intersection with another cul de sac, not just a through street); see also Kraiza v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 121 Conn. App. 478 (2010, Borden, dissenting) (cul de sac length measurement included existing road being extended, not just new segment; loop road was still a cul de sac; on appeal). Smith Bros. Woodland Management, LLC v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Munroe, 88 Conn. App. 79 (2005) (“The manufacture, compounding, assembling and treatment, including machining and sintering, of articles made principally from previously prepared materials” includes creating mulch); Pappas v. Enfield Planning & Zoning Commission, 40

Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 668 (3-27-07); Worthington Pond Farm, LLC v. Somers ZBA, 41 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 16, 590 (8-28-06) . Ruggieri v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Putnam, 46 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 16, 582 (1-26-09) (retailer of sparklers and fountains was storing “flammable materials” in violation of regulation). Definition of “Lot” prevents counting area under a private road toward lot area, Field Point Park Association, Inc. V. Planning & Zoning Commission, 103 Conn. App. 437 (2007). Regulation barring “unsightly outdoor storage” is void for vagueness, Newtown v. Plunske, No. 278150 (4-11-85, J.D. of Danbury). Requirement that rear lot have “unobstructed legal accessway” held met by corridor owned by applicant but subject to a conservation easement with actual access from another point, Egan v. Stamford Planning Board, 49 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 237 (4-26-10). Competitions for horse roping, barrel racing, etc. in exchange for a fee paid by competitors is not “agricultural use.” Hills v. Middletown ZBA, 49 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 234 (4-26-10). A child daycare center is not a “school” even though it may provide so me incidental education. Frank’s Package Store v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 52 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 362 (10-24-11). “Fine furniture:” Does that mean “high quality,” “good quality,” “one of a kind, hand-crafted” furniture? R & R Pool and Patio, Inc. v. ZBA, 129 Conn. App. 275 (2011).

As with statutory interpretation, a reviewing court may use legislative history to construe an ambiguous ordinance (would probably apply to a zoning regulation). Witty v. Hartford Planning and Zoning Commission, 66 Conn. App. 387 (2001).

Different language in the regulation can produce odd results: compare Richardson v. Zoning Commission, 107 Conn. App. 36 (2008) (“equine center” is not a farm) to Borrelli v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 106 Conn. 266 (2008) (same type of facility was permitted “agriculture.”)

Despite deference to local agency, interpretation of regulation is still a function of the court. Field Point Park Ass’n. v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Greenwich, 103 Conn. App. 437 (2007), (area of lot covered by private road cannot be counted toward minimum lot requirement). Agency can change its interpretation, but if they do, reviewing court will accord their interpretation less deference than otherwise. JMM Properties, LLC. v. Hamden Planning & Zoning Commission, 36 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 23, 878 (June 7, 2004). See also Keith Mallinson v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Prospect, 43 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 210 (June 4, 2007). For change in practice (bond releases), see Grandview Farms, LLC v. Town of Portland, above.

Watch out for zones that allow, by reference, uses permitted in some other zone: The conditions under which it is allowed in the referenced zone may not “transfer” to the second zone. Fair Street, LLC v. Zoning Commission, 47 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 20, 750 (August 10, 2009).

J. Limitations on Use Variances, Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-6(a)(3)

Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-6(3)(a) allows a zoning commission to specify in its regulations “the extent to which uses shall not be permitted by variance in districts in which such uses are not otherwise allowed”. However, courts have not permitted wholesale prohibition of use variances, leaving unclear how far Section 8-6(a)(3) can be extended. Wallingford Zoning Board v. Wallingford Planning & Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. App. 297 (1992); Board of Zoning Appeals v. Town Planning & Zoning Commission of Hamden, No. CV-81-195250 S (Superior Ct., J.D. of New Haven, 1-29-82); Zoning Board of Appeals of the City of Bridgeport v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 34 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 705 (7-21-03).

K. Agency Jurisdiction Over Validity of Statutes, Regulations

An administrative agency cannot rule on the legal validity of the regulations or statutes under which it operates; only a court can do that. Fullerton v. Administrator, Unemployment Compensation Act, 280 Conn. 745 (2006). Similarly, a ZBA cannot determine if a zoning regulations is valid when hearing a ZEO. appeal or variance.

L. Historic District

A “structure” subject to the jurisdiction of Historic District Commission need not be physically attached to the ground. Fairfield Historic District Commission v. Hall, 282 Conn. 672 (2007), (6-ton sculpture that merely rested on the ground was still a “structure”).

VI. SUBSTANCE.

A. Change of Zone or Regulations (Zoning or IWWC).

Legislative decision, highest level of discretion, as long as Statutes are complied with. Same if it is a “floating zone” type of planned district. Campion v. Board of Alderman of City of New Haven, 34 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 353 (May 12, 2003), affirmed by Supreme Court in 278 Conn. 500 (2006). Alleged noncompliance with Plan of Conservation & Development does not render decision improper. Cottle v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Darien, 100 Conn. App. 291 (2007). On appeal, court is not to substitute its judgment for the broad discretion of the zoning authority. Konigsberg v. Board of Alderman of City of New Haven, 283 Conn. 553 (2007). Evidence to support zone change is not the “substantial evidence” test applicable to applications under the regulations, but a lesser standard of proof, Dutko v. Planning & Zoning Board, 110 Conn. App. 228 (2008).

“Minimum Buildable Land” requirements OK. Timber Trails Associates v. Planning & Zoning Commission of Sherman, 99 Conn. App. 768 (2007).

Floating zone can’t “expire” automatically even if approval motion says so. Blakeman v. Shelton Planning and Zoning Commission of the City of Shelton, 82 Conn. App. 632 (2004). Amendment to floating zone must follow same procedure as original approval. Id.

Until 2002, with zone changes alone, there was no Statutory provision allowing commission to “modify and approve” the application, although it is routinely done. AEL Holdings, Inc. v. Board of Representatives of City of Stamford, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 418 (October 29, 2001), (zone change had to be approved or denied; no changes). Affirmed 82 Conn. App. 6a32 (2004). This has been fixed by PA 02-77, substituting the words “act upon” for “adopt or deny”. Even pre-2002, Commission could approve less of a change than what was sought. Scully v. East Haddam Planning and Zoning Commission, Doc. No. CV 95 0074314 (J.D. of Middlesex at Middletown), cert. den.

Spot Zoning: Concept of “spot zoning” is virtually dead. Even regulation that applied to perhaps only one property upheld. Kingston v. Old Lyme Zoning Commission, Docket No. CV 06-4005983 (Sup. Ct., New London). But see Gaida v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 108 Conn. App. 19 (2008) finding spot zoning for attempt to rezone industrial land to residential in the midst of efforts to close down the existing industrial operation. See also, Roundtree v. Planning & Zoning Commission, 2007 Conn. Super. LEXIS 2258 (August 14, 2007) (spot zoning to accommodate a lawyer's new office).

Uniformity Rule: Does not preclude regulation that applies to only some properties. Roncari Industries, Inc. V. Planning & Zoning Commission of Windsor Locks, 281Conn. 66 (2007). Kingston v. Old Lyme Zoning Commission, supra.

B. Plan of Development Adoption/Amendment (legislative).

C. Special Exception or Permit.

Administrative decision; next level of discretion. Can apply criteria of the regs, but only those and no others. Could be PZC or ZBA. If ZBA, no hardship required but still four affirmative votes needed. Very high level of discretion. See Children's School, Inc., supra. Commission has discretion to apply regulatory requirements, N&L Associates v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 39 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 466 (8-15-05), (regulations said excavation SX shall not be renewed if "violations" but commission could ignore minor, technical violations and grant renewal.). Compare to Smith Bros. Woodland Management, LLC v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 88 Conn. App. 79 (2005), where regulation, by its text, permitted the use but Commission unsuccessfully attempted to deny it on other grounds (health & safety, Plan of Conservation & Development, etc.). Moral: Discretion won't extend to the point of ignoring your own regulations.

D. ZBA Automotive Location Designations.

A complete mess! Eliminated by PA 02-70, §87, and then reinstated in the trailer session but without the standards! ZBA is acting as a STATE AGENCY per CGS 14-54; different standards; not hardship. Standard was in Section 14-55, "such location has been found suitable for the business intended, with due consideration to its location in reference to schools, churches, theaters, traffic conditions, width of highway, and effect on public travel". Denial because of property values impact, conflict with master plan, or other typical "health, safety, and welfare" zoning criteria is not authorized. Vicino v. ZBA, 28 Conn. App. 505 (1992); Auto Placement Center, Inc. v. East Haven ZBA, 19 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 207 (6-9-97). But 14-53 and 14-55 were repealed (but see East Coast Towing, below). Now, PA -05-218 has sent these decisions to zoning commission, i.e., back to the 02-70 situation, except that for municipalities with a population of less than 20,000, ZBA location approval is still required and still with no standards and no public hearing requirement! So what standards apply now? “Suitability of the location,” and zoning commission has discretion. See East Coast Towing, LTD v. City of Stamford, 50 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 225 (10-4-10). See follow-up decision in East Coast Towing, Ltd. v. Stamford ZBA, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 572 (6-6-2011) (error in the official “blue book” set of General Statutes; Section 14-55 not completely repealed, but amended and reinstated.)

E. Subdivision.

Administrative decision, and historically narrow discretion: subdivision must comply with Subdivision Regulations, no more no less. See, Krawski, supra, but rule may be getting broader. See Laux v. Westport Planning & Zoning Commission, 29 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 25 (April 2, 2001), (proper to deny subdivision even where lots conformed to regulations because they was so gerrymandered and odd in shape as not to be “building lots”). See, also Smith v. Greenwich Zoning Board of Appeals, 227 Conn. 71 (1993), (denial of subdivision was proper to protect historic street scape because historic factors are natural resources and commission could consider protection of natural resources). Denial due “character of the land” factors upheld where criteria is in the regulations and facts indicate massive earth-moving would be required, Jackson, Inc. v. Planning and Zoning Commission, 118 Conn. App. 202 (2009.)

If Commission is going to require a plan for the entire property before approving phased subdivision, must be in the regulations. Szymanska v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Ridgefield, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 14, 520 (11-19-01). Every lot in a subdivision must conform to the zoning regulations--PZC can waive SUBDIVISION requirements by 3/4 vote IF there is authorizing provision in your Regs (Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-26) but CANNOT ISSUE VARIANCES.

Resubdivision: Combining lots is not a resubdivision but changing a through-street to cul de sac is. Arvin Gregory Builders v. Brookfield Planning Commission, 33 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 18, 672 (2-24-03).

F. Zoning, Site Plan:

Some of the same considerations as for subdivision since level of discretion is the same, e.g., Commission can consider off-site impacts of application if the Regulations so authorize. A. Aiudi & Sons, LLC v. Plainville Planning & Zoning Commission, 27 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 11, 411 (August 28, 2000). But compare to 229 Post Office Road, LLC v. Enfield Planning & Zoning Commission, 2007 Conn. Super. LEXIS 2576 (10-1-07) holding that commission could not consider off-site impacts in site plan review.

G. Wetlands Permit.

Declaratory, Plenary and Summary (sig. vs. not sig.); Exempt or permitted uses. Many regs don't have "Declaratory" procedure but it exists due to inherent authority to determine jurisdiction. See above.

H. Variance.

Hardship is to the land, not the person; not financial; unique; not self created by applicant or its predecessor in title; in harmony with the purpose and spirit of the Regulations. For extreme example, see Santos v. ZBA of Stratford, 100 Conn. App. 644 (2007), (illegally created lot could not be used at all without variances, but held self-created and financial hardship only). Note factor of reducing nonconformity, Vine v. ZBA of North Branford, 281 Conn. 553 (2007). "Hardship" test not satisfied just because granting of the variance would arguably produce a better site plan for the neighborhood. Swiconek, Trustee v. Glastonbury ZBA, 47 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 13, 492 (June 22, 2009), 51 Conn. Supp. 190 (2009). For interesting case, see Vichi v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 679 (7-4-2011) (same judge upheld denial of variance to allow a dwelling on nonconforming lot, Vichi v. Zoning Board of Appeals, Docket No. 565653; but on a new application, overturned ZBA denial of variance on grounds of "fundamental fairness" because 3 other adjoining lots from the same original development had been allowed to construct homes.) There is no "de minimus" variance in Connecticut (variance granted just because it's such a small nonconformance). Morikowa v. ZBA, 126 Conn. App. 400, 413 (2011); Long Shore, LLC v. Madison ZBA, 52 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 359 (10-24-2011).

Once variance denied or court appeal overturns the approval, Board cannot approve same application later. Daw v. ZBA of Westport, 63 Conn. App. 176 (2001); Rutter v. Haddam ZBA, CV 96-079420 (Middlesex). See Benson v. ZBA, 89 Conn. App. 324 (2005). But see Vine v. ZBA of North Branford, supra, which did allow reversal of previous denial without mentioning the Benson case. See contrary rule for special permits, Richardson v. Zoning Commission, 107 Conn. App. 36 (2008). Note also that erroneous granting of past variance won't prevent Board from acting correctly under the same facts in another situation. Goulet v. Cheshire Zoning Board of Appeals, 44 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 12, 430 (1-14-08).

Taking of portion of property by eminent domain constitutes hardship for the balance. Couture v. Bristol Zoning Board of Appeals, 34 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, p. 351 (May 12, 2003). There is no such thing as a “de minimis exception” to the hardship requirement (i.e., if variance is request is small enough, no hardship need be shown). Ransom, Jr. v. ZBA of New Milford, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 9, 336 (1-8-07). Standards for what constitutes “hardship” is based on Statutes and case law, and Board cannot impose additional requirements, even if local zoning regulation says so. Jersey v. ZBA of Derby, 101 Conn. App. 350 (2007).

Reduction in a nonconformity may be grounds for a variance but only if the variance is essential to reducing the nonconformity—not just as a barter, “you give me a variance and I’ll reduce this unrelated other nonconformity.” Lavoie v. Voluntown ZBA, 49 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 153 (4-12-10).

I. Appeals of ZEO Decision.

Adjudicative--different from any of the others. Acting like a court, weighing facts and law. After the close of public hearing, ZEO cannot speak, contra normal situation (see “Staff Input”). ZEO refusal to issue a Certificate of Zoning Compliance is not grounds for Writ of Mandamus because ZBA appeal is available remedy. Quinn v. Kerr, 25 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 15, 527 (12-13-99)

J. Site Plan Approval, If You Have It.

Ministerial. No discretion at all (in theory). Same for staff "Zoning Permit". Beware standards in Regs. which are not ministerial (e.g., Willington logging regs).

K. Affordable Housing Applications.

CALL THE TOWN ATTORNEY!! The rules are totally different and you will need legal counsel at once.

L. Enforcement.

I think you can file cease and desist orders in the land records per Cabinet Realty v. Planning and Zoning Commission of the Town of Mansfield, 17 Conn. App. 344 (1989); can obtain prejudgement remedy, State of Connecticut v. Philip Morris, et al., 23 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 6, 192 (January 4, 1999); Town of East Lyme v. Wood, 54 Conn. App. 394 (1999).

A decision not to enforce regulations is not appealable. P.R.I.C.E., Inc. v. Canterbury, Docket No. 93-0047479 (Superior Court, J. D. of Windham at Putnam, March 21, 1995, Potter, J.); Maier v. Tracy, 7 Conn. L. Rptr. No.292 (1992, Fuller, J.) and also 8 Conn. L. Rptr. 418 (1993, Fuller, J.). Same if it is the planning and zoning commission which decides not to enforce. Gordon v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Easton, 31 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 5, 159 (2-11-02). Same result for a Building Inspector, West Haven Academy of Karate v. Town of Guilford, 28 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 2, 53 (November 13, 2000). Same for wetlands. Davis v. Environmental Commission of New Canaan, 42 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 19, 691 (3-19-07). Enforcement or non-enforcement is a discretionary function of local government, and a municipality cannot be compelled, even by contract, to commence enforcement action against a violation. Oygard v. Town of Coventry, 30 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 7, 252 (October 1, 2001), (In settlement of claims of reduced property values, Town entered into contract with neighbor to enforce zoning violation against adjacent owner, then failed to honor that contract. Held that contract was void and unenforceable.)

If there is a Zoning Enforcement Officer, avoid commission votes “directing” or “advising” that Officer what to do. Could trigger a dual appeal to ZBA and also Superior Court. See Lost Trail, LLC v. Weston Planning and Zoning Commission, 48 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 3, 90 (9-28-09) (commission voted to give “advice” to Z.E.O., but published a legal notice of the vote; held it was a de facto commission decision, hence appealable to Court, not ZBA.) See also, Lallier v. Zoning Board of Appeals, 119 Conn. App. 71 (2010) (commission reversed earlier decision and ordered Z.E.O. to issue order).

Conn. Gen. Stats. §8-13a: Validates structures which violate setbacks if they have existed for more than three years before the “institution of an action”. This means a court action, not just issuing a Cease and Desist Order. Adamski v. Bristol Zoning Board of Appeals, 12 Conn.L. Rptr. 431 (1994). Fuller, Land Use Law and Practice, 2nd Ed., Section 53.3, p. 575. The three-year limit does not run from discovery but from the erection of the structure in question. Curran v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Town of Newtown, 1995 WL 316961. Conn. Gen. Stats. § 8-13a validates only setback violations, not use violations. Kelly v. Norwalk Zoning Board of Appeals, 99 CBAR 0106, 24 Conn.L. Rptr. 95 (1999), Superior Court at Stamford, Docket No. 162660. However, mere fact that the use was not legal or authorized will not defeat validation of any setback violation. Dodson’s Boatyard, LLC v. Planning and Zoning Commission of Stonington, 77 Conn. App. 334, cert. den., 265 Conn. App. 908 (2003). Section 13a applies only to buildings, not to other structures, like a generator, utility pole, etc. Wright v. ZBA of Mansfield, 22 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 1, 76 (7-6-1998).

VII. HOW YOUR ATTORNEY CAN HELP YOU;
HOW YOUR ATTORNEY CAN HELP US HELP YOU

A. Involve us EARLY.

If you know a controversial application is coming, have your attorney present at the hearing from the beginning; want to work with staff to draft the motion(s); structure (not content) of staff input. This is key to success: be proactive to produce strong case, discourage appeals, avoid spending the money to defend them. If your regular attorney has a conflict of interest, you can retain your own and the municipality has to pay for it. Berchem, Moses, & Devlin, P.C. v. Town of East Haven, 51 Conn. L. Rptr. No. 10, 350 (5-2-2011).

B. Don't Be Shy.

If a question arises during a meeting, call a recess and telephone your town attorney at home. If can't reach him/her or he/she requests you not to call after hours, table it, if there is time. One phone call to knowledgeable land use attorney can solve most problems in less than 15 minutes; cheaper than two years in court, especially when you end up losing due to silly procedural glitch and have to do the whole thing again.

C. Do Your Homework.

I was at a commission meeting where none of the members even had a copy of their Regulations with them, heard staff members quoting outdated statutory sections, have seen plans with violations right on the face of them that no one noticed, heard commission members who had not read their own regulations and did not know what was in them, saw voluminous material handed out to the commission members the night of the meeting so there was no way they could read it in advance, saw a commission member break the seal on envelope of material that WAS mailed out in advance. No lawyer can fix these mistakes. READ YOUR REGULATIONS. ATTEND COURSES AND SEMINARS. READ NEWSLETTERS FROM THE BAR, APA, IPS, ETC. Read Terry Tondro's book and have a copy available at meetings. The staff should have a copy of Bob Fuller's book.

D. Don't Knowingly Violate the Law.

May seem obvious, but I have heard commission members say, "I don't care what the law says, my mind is made up!" Keep cool. If things are out of hand, or its late and everybody is freaking out, or commissioners are fighting each other, table or take a recess or move to another topic and then drop back to that one later. When people get mad, they say things on the record that are damaging.
